INDICTMENTS LOOKED FOR IN STEINBERG CASE

Assistant Prosecutor Expects Action When Belleville Grand Jury Reports Tuesday.

BROKERAGE FIRM'S CUSTOMERS TESTIFY

Some Have Complained of Losses Through Company's Pledging Securities Which They Owned.

Transactions of the closed brokerage firm of Mark C. Steinberg & Co. through its East St. Louis branch were investigated yesterday afternoon by the St. Clair County grand jury at Belleville.

The grand jury will make its report Tuesday, according to Assistant State's Attorney C. C. Lindauer, who declined to disclose the nature of the evidence presented to the grand jury, but said, "From the evidence given I expect some indictments will be returned."

Thomas Stein, manager of the East St. Louis branch of the brokerage firm, was a witness before the grand jury as were several of the St. Clair County customers of the firm. He has been told customers have complained that their "free" securities were pledged by the firm as collateral for bank loans and that the securities were subsequently sold by the banks.

Mark C. Steinberg, senior partner, admitted at a recent hearing in Federal Court here that the firm had pledged about 5 per cent of free securities through an "investing mistake." An auditor for the receivers for the firm testified that the pledged free securities amounted to about $51,000.

"Free" securities are those which have been purchased outright by the customer and paid for, but which have not been delivered to the customer by the brokerage firm.

Customers who complained that their free securities had been pledged said that this was done without their authority. Other customers complained that their securities were pledged without their knowledge and that the amount for which the customer was liable to the firm, in marginal transactions, the brokerage firm is authorized to use the customer's stock as collateral.

The Steinberg firm, against which a bankruptcy petition was filed a few hours after State receivers were appointed April 23, is reported to settle with creditors whose claims total about $100,000, on the basis of 20 per cent in cash and 80 per cent in promissory notes of a trust created by the nine partners.

Approval of the offer by a majority of creditors in number and amount is necessary to make it effective. The offer provides that payment of the promissory notes would be contingent on the earnings of the partners for the next 10 years. No limitation, however, is placed on the earnings of Mark C. Steinberg, who owns 82 per cent of the firm.

The junior partners are Paul E. Polakoff, J. S. McCourtney, Gordon Scherck, Hunter Breckenridge, Robert H. Harris, John Grunkl Jr., Robert A. Waddell and Charles H. Patton.

BANK MESSENGER ON TROLLEY ROBBED OF CANCELED CHECKS

Holdup Man Draws Revolver as Negro Is About to Leave Car.

Walter Hutchinson, Negro messenger for the Homebank Bank, 1415 Barmine avenue, was held up on a trolley today by two men, who obtained only a folder containing canceled checks.

Hutchinson was preparing at Madison to get off the car following a trip to the Clearing House, when the men, passengers on the car, left their seats, one of them drawing a revolver. "Stick them up," the armed man commanded. Hutchinson's companion seized the messenger's folder from the messenger, and the two men jumped from the car and fled on foot.

Hutchinson went to the bank, where he made a report of the holdup. He described the armed man as being about 35 years old, wearing a brown suit, blue shirt and a cap.

CITY HALL DROPS FIGHT ON SPECIAL TAXES FOR ART MUSEUM AND ZOO

Mayor Miller and Comptroller Nolte Decide Issue Can't Be Made Readily Understandable to the Voters.

The City Hall today abandoned its plan to have the Art Museum and Zoo special tax levies eliminated or reduced by half. Initiative petitions, prepared at the direction of Mayor Miller and Comptroller Nolte, which would have called for a vote on the matter in November, will not be filed.

Miller and Nolte, a majority of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, agreed some months ago to get the proposals on the ballot in November and work for the change. The third member, President of the Board of Aldermen, opposed the move.

A statement issued by Nolte before the Board of Estimate met today announced the new decision. "As the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has reached the conclusion that it would be impossible, under existing circumstances, to submit these propositions to the taxpayers of the city at a general election in a manner that would be readily understood by voters generally," the statement read, "it has been decided to withhold the proposed propositions for the time being."

The phrase "for the time being" was interpreted at the City Hall to mean that the proposal was to be shelved, if not permanently, at least indefinitely. Nolte said there were no plans for submitting the propositions later.

The difficulty in making the issue clear to voters, the statement explained, was that no provision was made in the law fixing the levies at two cents on the $100 valuation for reducing the rate. To effect a reduction, it would have been necessary first to abolish the taxes, and then to vote new ones at the rates desired.

"This method is cumbersome, and is liable to misunderstanding," the statement continued. "Many taxpayers who have expressed themselves in favor of reducing the taxes for the institutions in question have declined to sign a petition to submit the proposition for abolition of the taxes, for the reason that they feared this might result in abolition of these institutions."

The Board of Estimate, the statement related, persists in its opinion that revenues of the Art Museum and Zoo are "greatly in excess of their needs, in these times of depression." Each institution received $265,564 from the special taxes last year.

ST. LOUIS U. STUDENT KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

John G. E. Wolter Loses Life in Collision Near Poplar Bluff, Mo.

John G. E. Wolter, 24 years old, son of Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Wolter, 3127 Rauschenbach avenue, was instantly killed this morning, when the machine he was driving collided with another near Poplar Bluff, Mo. Wolter, a graduate of the University of Illinois, was a student in the St. Louis University Law School.

Wolter left St. Louis last Wednesday for a vacation tour of the State. He said he intended to visit Jefferson City and Springfield and return home the latter part of this week to prepare for the beginning of the school year. He was alone when the accident occurred.

The driver of the automobile that collided with Wolter's car gave his name as Arch Wilkey, Rio, Mo. He was not injured seriously. Wolter's father is a physician with offices at 1502 Cass avenue.

HUNT FOR 'AMERICAN NURSE' PLANE CONTINUES IN ITALY

No Trace Found of Craft Carrying Two Men and Woman

By the Associated Press. ROME, Sept. 16.—The Italian Air Force and the Government continued its wide search over land and sea today for the missing New York-Rome airplane American Nurse and its three occupants, two men and a woman.

Officials said, however, they thought the likelihood of finding the plane was small. Aviation officers said they were inclined to think it fell into the sea.

SNAKE CUT FREE FROM SPIDER WEB AFTER LONG FIGHT

St. Charles (Ill.) Mayor, Warned by Humans Society, Ends 25-Day Struggle.

By the Associated Press. ST. CHARLES, Ill., Sept. 16.—With a pair of scissors, Mayor I. G. Langum yesterday snipped free the 10-inch garter snake that had struggled for 25 days to free itself from a spider web in the town pump house.

The end of the uneven contest—for the snake never had a chance to get free, the spider spinning new strands around its neck from time to time—was witnessed by about 200 persons.

The little black spider was declared the winner, but its victim, weak and sluggish, was fed some milk by the Mayor and allowed to wriggle away to freedom.

As the Mayor cut the web, there were cries of "foul" on the part of partisans of the spider, and the Mayor admitted his action was unfair, but he said he did not want St. Charles to become involved in any legal controversy as a result of the fight. He had been warned by W. M. Stone of the Chicago Humane-Education Society that permitting continuation of the struggle was in violation of the law which prohibits "keeping a creature in a cruel manner."

UNVEILING OF MONUMENT TO PEARY IN NORTH DESCRIBED

Daughter of Explorer Took Part in Ceremony at Cape York, Greenland.

By the Associated Press. BRIGUS, Newfoundland, Sept. 16.—Unveiling of a 60-foot high monument in honor of Admiral Robert Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, at Cape York, Greenland, on Aug. 21, was described by the crew of the schooner Effie M. Morrissey, which arrived today.

Mrs. Marie Peary Stafford, daughter of Admiral Peary, pulled the cord that bare the great shaft before a group of Americans and Eskimos.

Mrs. Stafford visited Falcon Harbor, where she was born in 1893, for some years, she was known as the "snow baby."

ELECTION 'IN LAP OF THE GODS'

Senator Howell Reports G. O. P. Prospects in West.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Returning today from the West, Senator Howell (Rep.), Nebraska, announced he would campaign for President Hoover, and he criticized the agricultural speech made by Governor Roosevelt at Topeka, Kan., Wednesday.

"The political situation in the West is in the lap of the gods," said Howell. "I found that the situation for the Republican is improving, and that Hoover sentiment is growing, and I believe all depends on developments in the next 60 days. Gov. Roosevelt, in his agricultural speech, merely wrote the general specifications which we have all known about and have been trying to meet for years. We want to find the answer. He gave none."

PLAN OF DANUBE GRAIN POOL

Total Amount of Common Fund Set at $15,000,000.

By the Associated Press. STRESA, Italy, Sept. 16.—The agrarian committee of the Danubian conference has fixed at 75,000,000 bushels (about $15,000,000) the total of a common fund to which it is proposed that countries importing cereals shall contribute in an effort to rehabilitate the agricultural countries of Middle Europe.

Purchasing countries would contribute at the rate of two gold francs a quintal, which is about 100 pounds. It is proposed that the countries benefiting from the common fund shall grant customs and commercial advantages corresponding to the amount which each country contributes to the fund.

ALEX. P. STOCKER, INSURANCE MAN, COMMITTS SUICIDE

Vice-President of Laclede Agency Worried Over Losses But Still in Comfortable Circumstances.

ENDS HIS LIFE IN HOTEL APARTMENT

Shoots Self as Train Passes—Leaves Notes for Son-in-law and Wife—Once Brewery Manager.

Alexander P. Stocker, 63 years old, insurance broker and former brewery manager, shot and killed himself at 6:30 a. m. today in the ninth floor of the hotel, a Wabash passenger train was passing on the tracks nearby as Stocker left the bedroom and went to the dinette.

Stocker heard a shot and called to her husband, "Did you hear that?" She supposed that the rumble of the train had kept him from hearing her, and she dozed off without repeating the question. When she awoke about 7, she arose and found the body, seated at a table.

Revolver Between Knees. The bullet, fired from an old-fashioned revolver, had finally found the right temple. The revolver was between his knees. Mrs. Stocker called hotel employees, and a physician was summoned, who found that death had resulted immediately.

A note which was left for Mrs. Stocker was marked "Personal." The widow did not make it public. She said it spoke of business matters as a reason for her husband's action.

The note to Weisert read: "Dear Walter: I fear that I am slipping, and I had finally landed in Arsenal street. My affairs are just getting away from me. Please look after mother. She is so good. My insurance is in recent months. The spot of the firm took out, and which was billed to me in July. Arthur (Feller) will tell you about it. Love to all of you, and wishing you the best of luck. Affectionately, A. P. S."

Mrs. Weisert, living at 450 West Jackson drive, Webster Groves, is the Stocker's only child. Weisert is manager of the Weisert Tobacco Co.

Feller, calling at the apartment, told a Post-Dispatch reporter of Stocker's recent actions, which led him to believe that his mind had been affected by brooding over business conditions.

Worried About Losses. "All day yesterday," Feller said, "Mr. Stocker followed me around the office, speaking of his old friends who had died or gone broke in recent months. He spoke of several cases, his personal clients, once prosperous, who had been unable to pay insurance premiums which were due."

Mr. Stocker had had losses on investments, and his income was probably cut in two, but he still had good earnings, and had no need to worry about his personal needs or those of his wife. But he seemed much depressed, and would ask, "What are we coming to—Communism or what?"

Stocker was of impressive physique, being six feet tall and weighing nearly 300 pounds. Because of his weight, Feller said, he had not been able to get additional insurance in recent years, and he carried a large amount of insurance.

Before going into the insurance business about 20 years ago, he was manager of the Phoenix Brewery at Eighteenth street and Lafayette. He was a brother of the late Tom Stocker, once well known as the "glad hand" receiver of visitors at the Anheuser-Busch brewery. He was active in Scottish Rite Masonry.

Fifth Kansas City Murder in Week. By the Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 16.—The fifth slaying here within a week took place early today when an unidentified man was shot to death near Thirteenth and Cherry streets. The right hand of the victim clasped an open bloodstained pocket knife. The victim was about 40 years old, weighed about 170 pounds and had brown hair and gray eyes.

ANESTHETIC KILLS 3 INSANE WOMEN IN OHIO HOSPITAL

Nurse Preparing Solution for Operation Misread 'Grains' as 'Grams,' Superintendent Says.

By the Associated Press. CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 16.—Three women, patients of the Longview State Hospital for the Insane, died today because, Superintendent E. A. Baber said, a nurse misread the formula for the anesthetic given them.

The victims, Jennie Branham, 54 years old; Anna McCullough, 45, and Willie Shockley, 30, died when an anesthetic was being given them preparatory to an operation to remove their tonsils.

Baber said Miss Maybelle Vialt, 35 years old, a hospital attendant since 1931, but only lately in charge of the drug room, was told to prepare a solution containing two grains of the drug, but that she misread the abbreviation "Gm." for grains, as "Grams," for grams, and prepared a solution of dangerous strength. A gram is a trifle more than 15 grains.

Jennie Branham reacted strangely when she received the first injection, but attendants attributed it to asthma from which she suffered. Anna McCullough slumped when the anesthetic was administered, but attendants said that action was not unusual. By the time the anesthetic had been given to the third woman, doctors became apprehensive, and immediately applied restoratives. It was too late.

A strong solution of the drug used, they explained, paralyzed the nerve centers and reacted upon the heart. Within 20 minutes the women were dead.

EARTHQUAKE DOES DAMAGE IN NEW ZEALAND CITIES

Three Persons Injured at Wairoa, Chimneys Tumble and Telephone Service Is Cut Off.

By the Associated Press. WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Sept. 16.—A violent earthquake which caused considerable damage in the Hawkes Bay district was felt over a large area this morning. Reports from Osborne this afternoon said minor shocks were continuing and that in some districts the earth was shaken regularly every few minutes.

Three persons were injured at Wairoa, where a new bridge is under construction, the old one having been damaged by an earthquake last year. Chimneys were toppled over and the telephone service was suspended because of damage to the underground cables.

$300,000 Loan to Montana. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation today made $300,000 available to Montana for current emergency relief needs. ### WIFE'S BODY DUG UP AFTER HER HUSBAND ENDS HIS LIFE

Discovery Made by Police in Basement of Home of Charles E. Du Bois—She Had Been Hunted Since Aug. 10.

HE SHOOTS SELF AT QUINCY, MASS.

Had Been Residing at Boarding House Under an Assumed Name—Told Officers Woman Died in Auto Accident.

By the Associated Press. PLYMOUTH, Mass., Sept. 16.—The body of Mrs. Edith Du Bois of Tuckahoe, N. Y., was dug from the ground here today but a few hours after Charles E. Du Bois, husband of the woman, had committed suicide by shooting himself in Quincy, Mass.

Du Bois died at Quincy hospital a short time after he had shot himself in the bathroom of a rooming house where he had been living as Ralph Anderson.

The woman's body was found buried under several inches of concrete and crushed stone in the basement of the Du Bois summer cottage.

New Construction Work. The discovery was made but a short time after John V. Sullivan, Assistant District Attorney, had come here from Dedham to direct the search. Upon his arrival he had said he was concerned about the amount of new construction work that was done at the cottage. The searchers, State and Plymouth policemen, immediately began pulling down all the new construction with orders from Sullivan that the house was to be torn down if necessary.

The police left the body as it was found pending the arrival of a medical examiner. Police had said Du Bois told them his wife was cremated in an automobile accident in Canada.

DuBois was unconscious from the time he entered the hospital. Two State police officials were in the hospital while the doctors were trying to revive him, but they were unable to get any statement from him.

DuBois, after police had been informed by neighbors that he had told conflicting stories of the whereabouts of his wife who disappeared from their summer home at Great Herring Pond, Plymouth, on Aug. 10, was arrested and booked on a charge of murder. Later, however, a District Court Judge declined to issue a murder complaint against DuBois because of insufficient evidence that a murder had been committed, and he was released.

Authorities planned to get in touch with a man and a woman of Flushing, N. Y., who, Assistant District Attorney Sullivan of Plymouth said, had been seen driving in an automobile with Mr. and Mrs. Du Bois Aug. 10. Sullivan said the two were seen riding toward Providence, R. I., and Mr. and Mrs. Du Bois were seen to return alone.

Later the investigators found deeds in the Norfolk County Court which transferred property from Mrs. Edith Du Bois to Grace Du Bois of New York. Only yesterday the same property figured in a deed, which was filed at the same court and which transferred the property from Charles E. Du Bois to Jeremiah E. MacAnarney, the lawyer Du Bois consulted after his release by the police.

Neighbors informed him the house and foundation were torn down Sept. 1 and hauled away. Cohn said the house was valued at $3500. Seven men were arrested today and one of them, August Kern, admitted, police said, he supervised the wrecking of the house as a subcontractor, saying he was engaged in wrecking houses "condemned" by the city.

INSULL CONCERNS TRADED STOCKS WITH EACH OTHER TO SHOW 'PROFITS'

Middle West Utilities Co.
Receivers Say Manage-

Dividends to Bolster Record of Earnings.

OPERATED AT LOSS
FOR TWO YEARS

Future of Concern Depends Entirely on 'Business Conditions and Good Management' They Report to Court.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The receivers of Middle West Utilities Co., once a three billion dollar holding company embracing the vast in-utility system, reported in Federal Court today that earnings reports had been enhanced by "profits from sale of securities" although in many cases these were merely exchanges on stock with subsidiaries.

The management also used stock dividends to build up the earnings showing, said Edward N. Hurley and Charles A. McCulloch, receivers.

They listed the Middle West Utilities at approximately $310,000,000 and assets at $298,805,041, the latter comprising chiefly investments in subsidiaries and other companies. Of the liabilities, capital stock and surplus totaled $230,348,089.

The audit and receivers' report comprised several hundred pages of financial statements and exhibits, with comments by the receivers.

Notes and accounts payable totaled $37,798,894.

Bank loans outstanding were $25,110,281, and of these the receivers said: "The bank loans are amply secured with plenty of collateral."

The holders are the Bankers Trust Co. of New York, and the Central Republic Bank and Trust Co., Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Co., and First National Bank of Chicago.

Future of Firm.
Hurley and McCulloch said the future of Middle West Utilities depended entirely upon "business conditions and good management."

From Jan. 1, 1930, until the holding company fell into receivership last April 14 it operated at a loss. "Funds provided during that period were shown to have been $104,628,730, while expenditures were $110,855,271."

The receivers made it clear the audit "was not a detailed statement of cash and other transactions for the purpose of disclosing irregularities."

No estimate has been made of the value that can be realized from securities held by the company.

Advanced to Employees.
An item of $659,594 was shown as advances to employees to secure their stock investments.

In a statement to the public, Hurley and McCulloch took cognizance of the published rumors of loans from company funds to Marshall E. Sampson, former president of the Central Illinois Public Service Co.

"The records of Middle West Utilities Co.," they said, "show a loan of 9000 shares of common stock of Central and Southwest Utilities Co. made to Mr. Sampson in September, 1931. Other than this, Mr. Sampson has no accounts owing the Middle West Utility Co. or its receivers."

"However, within a day or two after the appointment of the receivers on April 14, 1932, it was ascertained that Mr. Sampson, who was then president of the Central Illinois Public Service Co., a subsidiary of Middle West Utilities Co. in which he was a director, had taken from Central Illinois Public Service Co. 4000 shares of $5 preferred stock of that company. The stock was reacquired stock held in the company's treasury. In return Mr. Sampson deposited his trust receipts. The receivers demanded and accepted the immediate resignation of Mr. Sampson and steps were taken for the protection of the Central Illinois Public Service Co."

9000 Shares Reacquired.
"Since that time 9000 shares of this preferred stock, which had been substituted for other collateral held on joint notes of Mr. Sampson and Mr. Martin J. Insull, were acquired by Central Illinois Public Service Co. through the purchase of these notes. The receivers have also been in negotiation with the holders of the balance of 2000 shares which had been deposited by Mr. Sampson as collateral on bank loans. Proper claim respecting this entire transaction has been filed with the bonding companies, the New Amsterdam Casualty Co., and Lloyd's of London, England, with a view of protecting the Central Illinois Public Service Co."

State's Attorney John A. Swanson conferred with Judge Lindley and was given permission to have his assistants examine the company records. Swanson said he wished Forty millions dollars have evaporated from the assets of the Mississippi Valley Utilities Investment Co., at today's prices, the receiver estimated in a preliminary report to the United States District Court yesterday.

The books showed $49,598,732 assets when Eugene V. R. Thayer became receiver upon the collapse of the insull investment concern last April. But he said that probably $40,000,000 have been wasted away in shrinkage of securities values.

Thayer's report was the second by Insull receivers this week.

Loans to Individuals.
The Mississippi Valley Utilities Co. investment audit showed $381,170,000 to individuals. Included in the figure were advances of $104,000 "partially secured" to Martin Insull; $44,142 to J. A. McPhail of the Canadian Insull organization, and a number of others. Only two were not secured, and many had life insurance policies as collateral.

The deficit of Mississippi Valley Utilities Co., Thayer said, was $230,348,089. "Funds provided during that period were shown to have been $104,628,730, while expenditures were $110,855,271."

Insull Indicates He Will Remain in France Indefinitely.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Samuel Insull declined to comment today on an announcement by Cook County authorities in Chicago that they intended to investigate the affairs of the public utilities corporations which he formerly controlled.

"I don't know that I am of any importance now," he said, "my principal concern at the moment is the health of Mrs. Insull, who has been ill now for six weeks."

He indicated that the might remain in France indefinitely, but that his plans for the future were uncertain.

BUSINESS JOURNAL REPORTS
FIRST UPTURN SINCE DECEMBER

First Advance of Any Magnitude Since April, 1931; Cotton Consumption Main Factor.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Business Journal announces that its index of business activity for August "shows an upturn for the first time since last December and the first advance of any magnitude since April, 1931."

The preliminary index for last month is 64.9 against 61.7 for July and 72.5 for August, 1931.

"A rise of 17.9 points in the adjusted index of cotton consumption," said the publication, "was the principal factor in the upturn. The adjusted index of bituminous coal production and freight car loadings showed small increases, but all the other components of the index for which August figures or estimates are available declined. With the exception of the adjusted index of automobile production, which dropped to a new low record for the present depression, the declines were of comparatively small extent."

Some of the Stock Held.
The principal items on the asset list were $23,255,541, in common stocks and $17,444,790 of preferred stocks; $400,649 in stock syndicates and $681,572 in notes payable.

Among the stocks held by the company were such items as 1000 shares of American Cigar Engine Co., 287 shares of Business Research Corporation, 16,320 shares of Continental Shares, Inc., stock of the First National Bank of Chicago, 27,444,790 of preferred shares of Intercontinental Exploration Inc., 10,000 shares of South American Oil Fields, Inc., other shares of Superior Alloys, Ltd., and the Nile Hotel Co., most of these unrelated to the utilities field. There were also textile, coal and paper pulp stocks.

Mississippi Valley Utilities Co. owes $16,700,000 to the Middle West Utilities Co., and the latter also owns 97 per cent of the Mississippi Valley stock.

Various enterprises in which the Mississippi Valley Utilities Investment Co. engaged were shown in the receiver's report. They included a real estate development in the Skokie Valley skirting Chicago's north shore section, on which there was a loan of $1,600,000; the Quivira development project near Kansas City in which $279,768 was invested; citrus fruit lands, Mexican real estate, and a total of $12,858,000 invested in New England textile and news print plants.

In addition to the deficit, the receiver said the company owes

$2 EACH PAID FOR ETCHINGS
BY MRS. MCCORMICK'S FRIEND

Described as Cut and "Dedicated" in Adoration; They Are Disposed of at Rummage Sale.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Etchings, cut and "dedicated" in adoration by Edwin D. Krenn, young Swiss architect who was a friend of the late Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, sold rapidly yesterday in a rummage shop at $2 each.

The etchings came from the McCormick home with some other articles and it was reported that Mrs. McCormick's secretary had ordered them sold. Twenty-five of an original 40 were disposed of, then the dealer removed them from the counter.

The etchings were dated Zurich, 1920, the year Krenn first met Mrs. McCormick while she was there.

BILL TO CONVERT LOANS
BEFORE FRENCH PARLIAMENT

Cabinet Submits Measure to Special Session; 4 1/2 Per Cent Interest on New Issues.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 15.—The Government submitted to a special session of Parliament today a conversion bill which the Cabinet has been considering for some time.

It would authorize conversion of several issues of Government bonds to a new issue at 4 1/2 per cent interest. The issues converted would be the 5 per cent rentes of 1915-16, the 6 per cent issue of 1920 and of 1927, the 5 per cent issue of 1928, the 6 per cent issue of 1927 and the 7 per cent Treasury bonds of 1927.

Under the reorganization plan, the petitioners charge, stockholders are not to be assured for the new capital to be supplied. Creditors' banks, it is charged, are to get interest on obligations junior to the prior lien and consolidated mortgage bonds, with the result that $70,000,000 will have been handed out to other security holders, and the prior lien holders will not even have interest.

The purpose of the reorganization plan, it is declared, is "to build up the speculative interest of stockholders at the expense of the bondholders."

"This plan," the brief says, "has been submitted by its proponents on a take-it-or-leave-it basis. The only alternative they leave open is receivership. The answer is that receivership is infinitely preferable. In legal contemplation, this plan amounts to gross fraud. The course in such instances, where the corporation involved is one affected by the public interest, where the security holders are widespread and with no means of organization, and naturally easy victims for the fraudulent machinations of an organized group of self-seeking interests, is to seek receivership."

"Mismanaged, Bled White."
"Had this company not been mismanaged, bled white and unscrupulously divested of working capital at the instigation of common stockholders in their hunger for dividends, the railroad would be operating better today, producing larger income and rendering better service, and liquid capital would be available for interest payments."

The huge dividends paid in 1930-31 were reckless in the extreme. Not alone did the road pay dividends in such a time of stress, but the cash was utilized to support and acquire the stock of two other railway companies, in a manner which the Interstate Commerce Commission report strongly condemns.

DECLARES FRISCO DIVIDENDS 'BLED RAILROAD WHITE'

Brief Filed by Petitioners
For Receivership Charges Working Capital Was Diverted.

Charges that the Frisco Railroad was "bled white" and was "unscrupulously divested of working capital, in the common stockholders' hunger for dividends," were made in the brief filed with Federal Judge Paris today by petitioners in the pending receivership suit against the railroad company.

The brief, a 56-page document, sets forth the contentions of the holders of prior lien and consolidated mortgage bonds, who are protesting against the reorganization plan promulgated for the Frisco by a reorganization committee. The petitioners allege that the reorganization plan would place them in a worse position than the holders of other securities, which should be, in bond market parlance, "junior" to theirs.

Jack Lewis Knus of New York is attorney for the petitioners. He said the brief was filed by other bondholders. They ask that a receivership be instituted at once, and that the reorganization committee be enjoined from proceeding with its announced plan.

Reply by Railroad.
The railroad company is replying to the suit, declaring that it is not insolvent, and will be able to meet maturing obligations. It states that the dividend payments in 1930-31, cited in the receivership petition, were voted by other directors than those now in control.

Judge Paris is expected to give a decision in the receivership suit within a few days. Last week he indicated that his decision would come soon after the petitioners' brief should be filed. During the oral argument, Judge Paris commented that there had been no showing of default on unmaturing obligations. He added that he did not know that the assent of the objecting bondholders to the reorganization plan was necessary. He said at one point that he did not believe a court should be a "wet nurse to big business."

Details of alleged waste and mismanagement are set forth in the petitioners' brief. "As a result of wanton, reckless mismanagement," it says, "the company finds itself hopelessly insolvent, with assets having value less than its funded indebtedness." It is charged that the assets were "written up" by $50,000,000, and that by this means a fictitious surplus was created, out of which dividends and interest were paid.

"The reorganization plan," the brief states, "is most outrageously inequitable. The purpose is to pay interest and principal on obligations junior to the prior lien bonds, and to perpetuate the control of the road by those individuals whose lack of understanding of their fiduciary obligations produced the downfall of the company."

A "Purging Process."
An extract from a speech of Paul D. Cravath, one of the New York counsel for the reorganization committee, is included in the petitioners' argument. Cravath is quoted as having said, in an after-dinner speech, that receiverships are not injurious to railroad properties, and that they serve as a "purging process."

Under the reorganization plan, the petitioners charge, stockholders are not to be assured for the new capital to be supplied. Creditors' banks, it is charged, are to get interest on obligations junior to the prior lien and consolidated mortgage bonds, with the result that $70,000,000 will have been handed out to other security holders, and the prior lien holders will not even have interest.

PROMOTER HELD ON FRAUD CHARGE IN $23,000 DEAL

Adolph R. Grund Is Arrested in San Francisco on Complaint of a St. Louis Realty Dealer.

Adolph Robert Grund, former St. Louis lawyer and gold mine promoter, arrested in San Francisco yesterday on a charge of giving worthless mining stock in exchange for $23,000 worth of securities here last spring, will return to St. Louis without extradition, the police were informed today by telegram.

The complaint on which Grund was arrested was made by Harry Felter Jr., 3421 Ridgeway avenue, Pine Lawn, a real estate dealer and co-proprietor of a hardware store at 5153 Easton avenue.

Felter told Assistant Circuit Attorney Lennon that on March 15 he turned over to Grund $23,000 in deeds of trust on real estate, in return for which he received stock of equivalent face value in the Gold Run Mines Co. of Gold Run, Placer County, California. Grund, he declared, told him the company was a Delaware corporation.

A warrant charging embezzlement of a $2600 deed of trust, of which Felter claimed ownership, was issued today against Grund.

Felter told the prosecutor that a few days later he began an investigation in which he learned that there was no such corporation in Delaware. He said he also found that on April 1, Grund had turned over a $2600 deed of trust, one of those originally owned by Felter, to the Walker Loan Co., 806 Pine Street, in payment for a Lincoln automobile.

On Felter's complaint a request for Grund's arrest was broadcast to police of San Francisco, Los Angeles and other Pacific Coast cities. He was described as 50 years old, six feet tall and weighing 200 pounds. One of the items of description was the observation that he habitually wore a scarf pin made of a gold nugget.

The San Francisco police were notified last night that the Circuit Attorney would defray the cost of returning Grund to St. Louis.

As a lawyer, Grund had offices in the Granite building. He was divorced here in 1922 by Mrs. E. Marguerite Grund, who testified at the hearing that Grund was an oil promoter at the time. The court awarded her $25,000 gross alimony.

ARKANSAS MOB
LYNCHES NEGRO
IN FRONT OF JAIL

Prisoner Taken Away From

By the Associated Press.
CROSBY, Ark., Sept. 16.—Frank Tucker, 44-year-old Negro, was taken from jail and hanged to a pole near the center of the business district here yesterday after he had slashed the throat of a deputy sheriff, Henry Reed, 39, when awaiting a hearing on a larceny charge.

Reed is in a hospital with only slight hope held for his recovery. Tucker, with another Negro, Tommy Wells, was under guard in a room at the City Hall, officers said when Tucker suddenly drew a razor from his pocket, and slashed at Reed. The Negro ran from the building, but was pursued by a group of men standing about the hall and was caught after a chase of a few blocks.

This group turned Tucker over to Night Marshal H. Johnson, who placed the Negro in jail. Word of the attack spread over the town and a crowd collected in a few minutes. Suddenly a group detached itself from the crowd and overpowered Johnson, taking the keys of the jail from him.

The men took Tucker from his cell and hanged him to a pole in front of the jail.

PEKIN DEPUTY HELD FOR GRAND JURY IN PRISONER'S DEATH

Coroner's Jury Also Directs Thorough Investigation of Implication of Other Parties Be Made.

SPECT VICTIM OF FATAL BEATING
Inquest Discloses Slain Man Feared He Would Lose Citizenship if Fingerprints Were Taken.

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
PEKIN, Ill., Sept. 16.—A verdict meeting that Deputy Sheriff C. O.
Ginner be held for the grand jury that body, "make thorough investigation of the implication of other parties" in the death of Marvin, unemployed coal miner hanging in his cell here two weeks ago, was returned by a Coroner's jury last night after three days of deliberation.

Skinner at present is at liberty under $20,000 bonds, on a warrant issued by the Coroner and State Attorney of Tazewell County, Ill., charging him with the Virant murder. He has denied any knowledge of how the man met death, and has, on advice of counsel, refused to amplify the denial.

The Coroner's jury found that the death of Virant was the result of more than 200 blows, some from external violence, inflicted by others than himself, while in the custody of the Sheriff of Tazewell County.

Feared Loss of Citizenship.
The inquest, started Wednesday and concluded yesterday before a panel of more than 200 persons, found that Virant apparently beaten while under arrest because he refused to submit to being finger-printed by the Sheriff's men. It also became apparent that Virant was based on the belief that if his fingerprints were taken he would lose his American citizenship.

George Geansel of East Peoria, Ill., was held as a witness in the case of Lewis P. Nelson, a case which Virant was being questioned, testified Virant was brought to the Tazewell County Jail Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 30, and placed in the upper tier of cells where he was being held alone.

"Then Skinner took him out,"
the witness continued. "He brought him back, then took him down. When he brought him back the second time, Skinner told him to take his fingerprints. If he didn't, he was going to Washington, D. C., and then back to the old country where he came from."

Complained About Head.
"Martin was complaining about his head," he said. "They hurt my head," he said he thought he had some broken ribs. He came to the side of the cell and I the bump on his head, but he didn't stand for me to touch his head."

I asked him who worked on him. He said "all of them, mostly Skinner." Skinner was the only one I knew, I guess. So I asked him, "Well, if you didn't do anything, why don't you let them take your fingerprints?" He said, "If they take my fingerprints they'll kill me. They have pretty near killed me already." But I don't think he knew what he was saying.
He was hysterical. He was saying his own language. I couldn't understand him.

Wednesday night they took him out for the inquest. Skinner and other (another deputy) and then they came back from the inquest they put him again in the upper tier and me they put down the lower tier."

Discovery of the Body.
The inquest to which Virant was brought was that into the death of Virant, where the coal miner testified he had been beaten so he was "pretty near killed," and that he was "ashamed for the American people."

Wednesday night was the last time any of his fellow prisoners saw Virant alive. In response to question from one of the Coroner's jurors, Geansel related that on Wednesday he said that he went to talk to Skinner. He said he wanted a doctor and wanted to talk to his sister in Peoria. I ask Skinner must have been the deputy he knew because I asked him if any deputy would do that, he said sure, so I told Deputy Skinner when I saw him, and he went upstairs and talked to Martin. But I didn't hear what he said.

Thursday afternoon I saw Skinner go upstairs. He unlocked the outer tier and I heard him call Martin. Martin didn't answer.
Right away, Skinner said,
"He has hung himself." So Skinner was fumbling around up there for about 5 or 10 minutes before he came down. No, I don't know what he did, but I don't know he didn't come from when he unlocked
the outer tier until he shouted,
"He's hung himself." He must have looked through the cells and saw him or something."

Butting in," Coroner Says.
A. J. Allen, Coroner, then asked the final witness. He was hurried across the street to jail, was admitted by Skinner.

and found Virant still hanging from the cell ceiling by a belt. The body was warm, he said. Virant's toes were touching the floor and his knees were slightly bent.

"I cut the body down and started artificial respiration," he continued. "I told Deputy Sheriff Fleming, who was there, in view of the things reported to have happened to Virant while he was in custody of the Sheriff's office, it would be extremely important to attempt to resuscitate him and that it would be a good idea to get a pulmotor.
He left right away to get a pulmotor and I kept up the artificial respiration until it arrived."

One jurymen asked the Coroner, "Did you recommend a doctor for Virant after he complained at the inquest that he had been beaten while in custody of the Sheriff?"

"No, sir," was the reply. "I wasn't botting into his chest and his chest was beating and his Testimony of Pathologist.
Other witnesses yesterday were Dr. William D. McNally, Chicago pathologist, who is on the faculty of Rush Medical College and for 15 years was coroner's chemist and physician in Chicago, and Miss Janes Shipley, Dr. Allen's secretary. Miss Shipley read her strenographic notes of Virant's testimony at the Peoria inquest.

Dr. McNally, after describing Virant's injuries in which "Muscles seven inches below the surface of the back were crushed to a pulp," said that death was due to shock and from external violence.

"That man ought to have been in a hospital instead of a jail," he told the Coroner's jury. "The fact that he was found hanging by the neck and nothing to do with the cause of death. The marks from the strap extended only two twenty-five thousandths of an inch below the surface. They were obviously post mortem, which means they were inflicted after death.
The man's neck was not broken,
he had not strangled, suffocated,
nor had he been asphyxiated."

"It was a terrible beating that this man had. Some of his injuries could have been inflicted by fists.
Others probably were from gun butts, blisses or boots."

Witnesses Wednesday told of how highly Virant valued his American citizenship and established that he was arrested by Skinner Aug. 30, at the East
Peoria police station, where Virant
had gone to report his whereabouts
in case any officers were looking for him. While there he had asked for a policeman to accompany him
to his rooming house where Nelson
was murdered, so he could get a clean shirt and his citizenship
papers. While Virant was waiting for an officer, Skinner arrived and arrested him.

WOMEN RIOT WHEN LECTURE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 16.—Storm-

"Give us back our money," hundreds of women arose when an advised lecture on "Married Love" was canceled yesterday at the Engineers' Auditorium, pushed
into the lobby and on to the stage,
tearing down signs and charts as they protested, "the show's been changed."

Between 400 and 500 women crowded in to see the $25 more than they had paid to hear the lecture
that wasn't given.

Another 200 repeated the demonstration in milder form at night,
but went away without their
money having spent half an hour
forming committees to visit the Prosecutor today and demand that
"the show be stopped for not showing what it advertised." The management asserted box office clerks had warned them "the show's been changed."

ONE-MAN STREET CAR
KILLS MAN ON GRAVOIS

Joseph W. Stibal, 57, Hit at Spring Av. on Way to Cleaner's.

Joseph W. Stibal, 57 years old, an unemployed cabinet maker, was killed at 9 a. m. today when he was struck by a one-man Cherokee street car at Gravois and Spring avenues.

The car was in charge of Frank Bunker, 3720 Eamberg avenue, who told police Stibal stepped in front of the car at the west side of the intersection and that he was unable to stop quickly enough to save him. The car was headed east.

At the Stibal home, 3631A South Spring avenue, police were told by his wife, Mrs. Mary Stibal, that he had left a short time before to go to a cleaner's shop near Gravois and Spring avenues. In addition to his widow, three daughters and a son survive.

STUBBEN SOCIETY KEEPS OUT OF PRESIDENTIAL FIGHT

Council Ratifies Stand Favoring Congressional Candidates for Dry Repeal.
Recommendations that the Stubendorsements of presidential or vice-presidential candidates in the present campaign and urge its members to support Congressional candidates pledged to vote for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and modification of the Volstead act have been ratified by the society's national council.

The recommendations were made at the society's recent national convention in St. Louis.

Witnesses Wednesday told of
how highly Virant valued his American citizenship and established that he was arrested by
Skinner Aug. 30, at the East
Peoria police station, where Virant
had gone to report his whereabouts
in case any officers were looking for him. While there he had asked for a policeman to accompany him
to his rooming house where Nelson
was murdered, so he could get a
clean shirt and his citizenship
papers. While Virant was waiting for an officer, Skinner arrived and
arrested him.

WOMEN RIOT WHEN LECTURE ON 'MARRIED LOVE' IS CANCELED
Get $62 More Than Their Money Back After Storming Stage
at Cleveland, O.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 16.—Storming the box office and shouting
"Give us back our money," hundreds of women arose when an
advised lecture on "Married Love" was canceled yesterday at
the Engineers' Auditorium, pushed
into the lobby and on to the stage,
tearing down signs and charts as they protested, "the show's been changed."

Between 400 and 500 women
crowded in to see the $25 more than they had paid to hear the lecture
that wasn't given.

Another 200 repeated the demonstration in milder form at night,
but went away without their
money having spent half an hour
forming committees to visit the Prosecutor today and demand that
"the show be stopped for not showing what it advertised." The management asserted box office clerks
changed."

ILLINOIS POLICE ESCORT PICKETS
FROM MINE AREA

Chief Moody and Aids Get Up Early, Block Roads, Then Order Men Out of Northern Area.

By the Associated Press.
BROADWOOD, Ill., Sept. 16.—
The invasion by union pickets of the Northern Illinois mine fields in protest against the reduced wage scale, became a rout today after three miners had been wounded.

Shortly after dawn Chief Walter
L. Moody of the State police confronted the encampment of striking pickets from the Peoria and Springfield districts and announced that they were going home under escort.

A few minutes later the proce-sion that had sought to stop dis-ting in Broadwood, Coal City and Winnington strip mines yesterday was homeward bound. There were 78 cars in the procession, led by Chief Moody and with police cars sprinkled through the line. There was no resistance, and none of the pickets was armed.

Reinforced by 100 Deputy Sheriffs of Will and Grundy Counties, the officers determined to disperse
the pickets and prevent a recurrence of the violence of yesterday in which one worker, trying to run a gauntlet of pickets, was out when his windshield was smashed and two pickets were shot. None was seriously wounded.

At 3:30 a. m. today the deputies took up guard duty along the roads marked yesterday by the pickets.
Their early rising saved them the jump, for it was not until 4 o'clock that the pickets, insurgent miners who oppose the new wage scale accepted by the United Mine Workers' Union, started out for the day's picketing. By that time deputies and State police had control of every road and sent the pickets back to the camp they had occupied in a Coal City park last night.

Back in camp, Chief Moody delivered his orders. The strikers were to go home, and there was to be no outbreak of any kind.
Northern Illinois Coal Corporation officials said the mines would reopen tomorrow.

Two State highway police, John Mason and Victor Slesak, both of Chicago, were injured seriously when their automobile crashed into a ditch while supervising the start of the miners back to their homes.
They were taken to a hospital in Joliet.

Two of the pickets were shot by an unidentified mine worker yesterday when they tried to keep him from passing through their lines. Flori Muzzarelli and John Monte, both residents of Farmington, near Peoria, were the injured men, neither of whom was seriously hurt.

The miner who did the shooting pushed his way through the picket line after the shooting and entered the mine.

Mine Strikers Reported Planning Camps in Three Counties.
By the Associated Press.
BENTON, Ill., Sept. 16.—Sheriff Browning Robinson announced today he had learned that leaders of the Progressive Miners' Union were attempting to lease ground in Perry, Jefferson and Hamilton counties for the purpose of establishing camps from which they expected to attempt another invasion into the Franklin County coal fields.

BOUND FOR OXFORD, WALKS
FROM OZARKS TO NEW YORK

Writer, Who Is Aided by Friends Says He Can't Get Visa to England.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Harry Browning, hoping to go to England, is here today with a little more than $200 in his pocket and assurances of receiving about $110 more in the next eight months. The British Consulate, however, he said, refuses to grant him a visa on the ground that this amount is not sufficient to take him to England, and keep him for eight months at Oxford and bring him back to the United States.

He has walked all the way from the Ozarks, and deep wounds have been left by his army boots around his ankles. He does not want more money. Ten cents suffices for a meal, he says.

He is 31 years old and was born in Verona, Mo. His education was delayed by poverty, but he succeeded in completing three years of a boy college, Springfield, Mo.
He has written two books which he peddles himself and he is known throughout the Ozarks as a writer.

Twenty of his friends at home subscribed $20 each, buying stock in his literary future. With this money he wants to go to Oxford and attend lectures for three terms. When he returns from England he is sure that he will be able to earn enough by writing and teaching to repay the stockholders.

OLD SHELL EXPLODES, KILLING SCHOOLBOY AND INJURING FOUR
Shrapnel Picked Up by Youngster On War-Time Hange and Carried Several Weeks.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 16.—
An old shrapnel shell, picked up by a boy on a war-time hange and carried several weeks, exploded around among his playmates for several weeks, exploded yesterday on a school ground near here, killing one boy and injuring four others.

Fifteen-year-old Alpha Vint, who found the shell, took it to school yesterday morning on a bag carrying 38 children. On the playground, witnesses said, he struck the shell against a post and the explosion followed.

Pieces of the metal hit Adril Young, 14, in the abdomen and chest and he died shortly afterward. The thumb and three fingers of Vint's right hand were blown off, while Joseph Dean, 11, Morgan Hodkin, 11, and Charles Beavers, 11, were cut on their arms and faces by flying bits of the shell.

State military department officials said the shell apparently was one that failed to explode in artillery practice at Camp Pike during the war. They said the range was posted with warnings.

ADMIRAL STRICKEN ON SHIP
By the Associated Press.
SAN PEDRO, Cal., Sept. 16.—
With Vice Admiral Joel R. P.
Pringle seriously ill aboard the ship, the battleship West Virginia sped today from Port Angeles, Wash., toward San Pedro, where an operation for an abdominal ailment is to be performed. Dr. A.
B. Cecil, Los Angeles specialist, is awaiting the arrival at the naval hospital in San Diego.

Admiral Pringle, 59 years old, next in line for the post of Chief of Naval Operations, was stricken while his ship was maneuvering in Puget Sound.

here last night of paralysis. He was stricken Wednesday.

MRS. RICHARD HINRICHS
TESTIFIES FOR DIVORCE

Former Marjorie Bell Says Husband Failed to Support Her Properly.

Mrs. Marjorie Bell Hinrichs, 7207
Amherst avenue, University City, testified today at Clayton in her suit to divorce Richard E. Hinrichs, an investment broker in Boatmen's Bank Building.

Mrs. Hinrichs, daughter of the late Nicholas M. Bell, Democratic leader, testified she advanced $40,- 000 to her husband since their marriage in 1915 and that he failed to support her properly, often refused to speak to her, and was quarrelsome. Hinrichs has filed a crossbill, charging she neglected their home and son.

Mrs. Hinrichs testified they lived at first with her husband's mother and that he was reluctant to move when she experienced difficulty in getting along with her mother-in-law. Finally they moved to the Amherst avenue two-family apartment building, which she owns.

Telling of her life there, she said that he often would push her aside in the corridor and that on pleasant evenings would sit on the front lawn, without talking to her. On unpleasant evenings, she testified, he frequently would spend his time in the basement.

Mrs. Hinrichs, who was separated from her husband in 1918 after filling suit for $20,000, including $2500 she alleged she had advanced to purchase a seat on the St. Louis Stock Exchange, said he told their son, Robert, that as he grew older he would realize what a terrible person your mother was. The boy, 15 years old today, was in court.
After their separation in 1918
the Hinrichs' became reconciled,
only to separate again last year.

PARISH HOUSE ROBBER GETS 10 YEARS IN THE REFORMATORY
Cyril Schaub Also Stole Auto and Was Aided at Times by "Shorty Bungalow."

Cyril Schaub, 20 years old, pleaded guilty today of two charges of robbery and was sentenced by Circuit Judge Ossing to 10 years at the Alagoa Reformatory for first offenders.

One charge was based on the robbery of the parish house of Holy Family Church, 4125 Humphrey street, last March 7, when the assistant pastor, the Rev. Charles Schmitt, was forced to open a safe containing $750. The other robbery was that of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose McEneny, 5133 Lotus avenue, whose automobile was taken from them as they were putting it in their garage, Feb. 6.

In the robberies Schaub was aided by a companion, John R.
Eaves, who attained notoriety as the "shorty burglar," entering several homes in basketball costume.
Eaves was sentenced to 15 years in prison last June.

DISTRIBUTING INVITATIONS TO VEILED PROPHET BALL
Souvenir Accompanying Them Is Tooled Italian Leather Cover for Telephone Book.

Special messengers have begun to distribute the 5000 invitations to the Veiled Prophet ball Oct. 5 at the Coliseum. Each is accompanied by a souvenir, this year a tooled Italian leather cover for a telephone book.

The cover is of golden brown morocco lined with heavy moire silk.
The front bears a conventionalized "wheel of life" above the letters in gold, "V. P. 1932."

FOX CORPORATION FINED $2048

Alleged to Have Helped Actor Evade Alimony Payments.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The Fox Film Corporation was fined $2048 yesterday because it was alleged to have paid a $885 actor $6 a week so that he could evade paying alimony. Supreme Court Justice John E. McGehean fined the firm $2048 and directed the money be turned over to Mrs. Louise Dinehart on his belief that the corporation had torn up a $885 a week contract with Alan Dinehart and written him another at the lower figure.

Mrs. Dinehart had accused her husband of having his salary reduced to prevent her from collecting back alimony of more than $3000 at the rate of $150 a week. While he ostensibly was working for $6 a week, she charged, he had been loaned to Warner Brothers for three weeks at $850 a week.

HYDE URGES RETURN TO LINCOLN IDEALS

Speaks at Unveiling of Statue of Civil War President at Fort Wayne, Ind.

By the Associated Press.
FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 16.—An appeal to the American people that they "turn back to the ideals of Abraham Lincoln" was made here today by Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde at the unveiling of a bronze statue of Lincoln as a youth. Hyde rebuked those who "believe that somehow the Government owes them a living."

"Few statements ever made by mortal man," he asserted, "have been more persistently misinterpreted than Lincoln's famous phrase at Gettysburg—'Government of the people, by the people and for the people.'"
"That phrase has been bent from its true meaning to serve the advocate of pure democracy, the purpose of the demagogue, and of the radical. It is frequently the catchword of those who believe that somehow the Government owes them a living without effort on their part. The phrase is often in the mouth of legislative blocs, which seek to emphasize a minority class interest at the expense of the common good."

Practise Lincoln's Philosophy.
Hyde asserted Lincoln's philosophy made "property the fruit of labor and a positive good to the world." Radicals, he said, can find small comfort from any honest interpretation of Lincoln's immortal words.

"To this nation today—emerging from the abyss of depression and distress into which war and its inevitable aftermath have irremediably plunged it," he said, "The mere recital of some of Lincoln's immortal words should come as a rebaptism of hope and courage."

A message from President Hoover was read by Senator James E. Watson. It said:

"I am deeply interested to learn of the unveiling and dedication of the Paul Manship statue of Abraham Lincoln—the Hoosier youth."

"The ever-growing appreciation of Abraham Lincoln's character and of this immortal service, not only in preserving the Union, at its darkest hour, but in its dedication to its loftier ideals, is a wholesome sign of the fundamental soundness of the national character and of the people's steadfast devotion to the highest principles of life and Government."

Ida Tarbell at Unveiling.
The statue is the likeness of Lincoln at 21, a stalwart Indiana frontiersman. The figure leans against an oak stump, book in hand, axe at side, with a hound dog close by.

Twenty-two feet tall, the statue is the work of Paul Manship, New York sculptor, and was cast in Brussels, Belgium. The permanent resting place of the statue is on the plaza of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. Building here.

Ida Tarbell, Lincoln biographer, was present.

CITY HOSPITAL NURSES' HOME NEARLY FINISHED

$600,000 Structure Scheduled to Open Nov. 1—Ready to Install Furniture.

Installation of furniture in the new $600,000 City Hospital Nurses' Home will begin next week and the home is scheduled to be opened Nov. 1, Miss Clara Coleman, superintendent of nurses, announced today.

The six-story building, at Lafayette avenue and Gratian street, will accommodate 279 nurses. It contains 253 single bedrooms and 16 suites for faculty members. All of the furniture will be of metal. Furniture and equipment will cost about $50,000.

The ground floor, connected by a tunnel with the hospital proper, contains class rooms, a chemistry laboratory, a demonstration room, and a library. A large lounge, three small parlors and offices are included on the first floor.

Recreation facilities. Each single room contains running water and there is a kitchenette equipped with a refrigerator in each wing. Each wing terminates in a large sun parlor. The building is in the shape of an E, the middle wing rising only two stories. It contains a gymnasium.

One of the two courts between the wings is sodded and will be used as a croquet ground. The other will be made into a formal garden, with a fish pool in the center, and will be illuminated by spot lights.

Color schemes in the various rooms, carried out through bed coverings, bridge lamps and rugs, will include green, orchid and yellow ensembles.

Construction of the building, which was begun more than a year ago, was delayed at times by labor difficulties. Workmen were installing the last of the fixtures today and all was virtually in readiness for the furnishings.

All Nurses Must Live There.
Opening of the home, Miss Coleman said, will eliminate the necessity of finding quarters for nurses outside of the hospital. About 60 are boarded now in the neighborhood, she said, since accommodations in the present nurses' home are limited.

When the new home is opened all nurses, including graduate nurses, will be required to live there. Some of the classrooms will be used next month.

The City Hospital nurses' training school, Miss Coleman said, was founded in 1888 and was the first nurses' training school to be established west of the Mississippi River. The original superintendent, Miss Emma L. Warr, who is about 80 years old, and was the first graduate nurse to arrive in St. Louis now is a patient at the City Hospital suffering from a broken hip.

JESSE LASKY QUITS PARAMOUNT

Pioneer Movie Producer Alleges Breach of Contract.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—Jesse L. Lasky, pioneer motion picture producer, has severed his connection with the Paramount studios and plans to return to independent productions.
A leave of absence which began last May was brought to an end by announcement from Lasky in which he alleged a breach of contract had been committed. It marked the separation of two of the oldest men in the industry, Lasky and Adolph Zukor, president of Paramount. In 1912 Lasky formed his first company and two years later combined it with Zukor's Famous Players, establishing one of the first large organizations, Famous Players-Lasky, which merged in 1929 with Paramount. Lasky did not disclose the nature of his disagreement with Paramount.

PRINCE OF WALES WEARS RED SHIRT AND STARTS FAD

Appears in Dozen Garments of Various Colors on Biarritz Front.

By the Associated Press. BIARRITZ, France.—The Prince of Wales began a vogue for bright colors while he was vacationing here, with his brother, Prince George.

The heir to the British throne appeared at various times in a dozen different, but "Lacoste" shirts named for the French aviator and having sports collars. A bright red was his favorite. With it he wore gray knickerbockers, red socks and white brogues.

Soon after his arrival he discarded his straw sailor for a bare Prince George, however, dashed about the town bareheaded.

When not on the golf links the Prince was generally in the swimming pool, where they took daily lessons from an American instructor. For these plunges the Prince of Wales wore a bathing suit of red, blue and brown.

SOVIET INSISTS ON RAIL RIGHTS IN MANCHUKUO

Says It Still Owns Chinese Eastern and Agreements Must Be Obeyed.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Sept. 15.—Soviet Russia, on the eve of Japan's recognition of the new state of Manchukuo, informed Manchukuo officials that the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria was still the property of Russia and jointly managed by both parties on the basis of the old Peking (Peking) and Mukden agreements. It was disclosed today.

The declaration was made in a note from Soviet Consul-General Savitski at Harbin to officials of the Chinese Eastern Railway. The note was in reply to a protest from the Kirin Diplomatic Commission over alleged withdrawal from the Chinese Eastern to the Soviet Unsurak Railway of several locomotives.

The locomotives, the Russian Consul said, were part of a lot purchased for the Soviet railways and stranded on the Chinese Eastern during the period of allied intervention after the war, in 1918-19. Slavitski gave the Diplomatic Commission the note last Monday.

The note said in part: "The locomotives mentioned in your letter are not the property of the Chinese Eastern and, therefore, are not listed in the Chinese Eastern inventory. They belong to the Soviet Railway and were stranded on the Chinese Eastern only owing to (allied) intervention."

"This unquestionable fact as evidenced by documents is known to the Chinese Eastern Board, and there can be no doubt as to the right of the Soviet Government to use or dispose of these locomotives. Just as there can be no doubt that the Chinese Eastern is the property of the Soviet Government and jointly managed by both parties on the basis of the Peking and Mukden agreements."

There followed a statement that the Soviet Government had instructed its representatives on the Chinese Eastern strictly to observe and steadfastly to carry out the Peking and Mukden agreements. It was concluded that no reason for protests existed.

Colombian Consul Reappointed. Macedonia Romero has been reappointed Consul of Colombia in St. Louis by President Olaya Herrera. Romero, who has held the office for eight years, lives at 4518 Page boulevard.

SWEDISH WAR CLAIMS OF $10,000,000 URGED

Old Dispute, England Considered Closed, Bobs Up As Wales Plans Visit.

By the Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 15.—Alleging that England owes them 40,000,000 kronor (about $10,000,000) for merchandise confiscated during the World War, a group of 160 Swedish importers has taken advantage of the announced visit of the Prince of Wales here to press their cause once more. An active propaganda campaign has been started and apparently will continue while the Prince of Wales is a guest of Sweden.

The importers, known as the Association of Swedish Creditors of Great Britain, are determined to combat any move by England for increased trade with Sweden until they have been given satisfaction. The members of the association are Swedish importers whose cargoes were held up and seized by the British authorities during the war. They insist that Great Britain violated the rights of a neutral nation in making such seizures, and have fought for years for a settlement, alleging that England failed to make reparations in full. They profess to believe that England, by not making full settlement, tried to penalize Sweden for alleged pro-German sympathies during the World War.

It was during the British blockade of the North Sea that the Swedish cargoes found their way into British ports. Sweden, in company with Norway and Denmark, protested and asked for redress. When the war ended, Swedish importers sent in a bill for 100,000,000 kronor (about $25,000,000).

In 1919, the Swedish importers accepted, saying they did so because of economic distress and a hope that England would settle in full when trade returned to normal. Others refused the offer and got nothing. They say, also, England made heavy deductions for storage and unloading costs, refunding actually only 40 per cent of the value of the merchandise.

The association was formed in 1925 and has since that time striven for arbitration by an international court, or for an agreement of some sort by the respective governments. England for many years has considered the matter closed.

The announced visit of the Prince of Wales stirred the association to increased activity. "We understand," writes the Swedish "Wholesaler" Magazine, "that England's foremost commercial traveler, the Prince of Wales, is to pay us a visit. Notice of this follows as good as immediately after the conclusion of the Ottawa conference, and is most certainly well the British desire and viewpoint. The visit of the Prince of Wales is in line with similar moves in the past, most certainly to arouse enthusiasm and support for English products."

"Swedish importers can never forget, however, the shameful aggression by official England during the war. The many millions of kronor that the British unscrupulously seized and then refused to return, in defiance of the most elemental rights, has put high barriers in the path of efforts to shape the soil for an increased market."

ISLAND AGAIN EVACUATED

Inhabitants of St. Kilda Return to Scotland.

By the Associated Press.
ST. KILDA, Outer Hebrides, Sept. 15.—This lonely island, only seven miles in circumference, has been left to the sea birds again. The inhabitants were evacuated several years ago, but a few returned this summer. When winter neared, they went back to Scotland and Neil Gillies, resident representative of the Earl of Dumfries, carried only long enough to make the two habitable buildings safe from winter storms. Bleak St. Kilda may be made a permanent bird refuge. Thousands are here now.

Farm Strike in Czechoslovakia.

CHARGE OF FAKING INJURY CLAIM TO GO TO GRAND JURY

Burt Kaemmerer and Aid Accused With Doctor and
A. F. Hart, Self-Styled Ambulance Chaser.

DR. SAMUEL WOLFF
BESMIRCHED, HE SAYS

Denies Knowing Harry Pulvers Feigned Hurts in Which Demand for $143 Damages Was Based.

The grand jury will investigate the case wherein two lawyers, a physician and a man who says he was an "ambulance chaser" for the attorneys were charged yesterday with attempting to obtain money by false pretenses.

The charge grows out of a statement by Harry Pulvers of Acorn, Mo., that he arranged to walk in front of a newspaper delivery truck in the alley in rear of the St. Louis Star and Times Building, that the physician examined him and made a report of injury in the case, although he was told Pulvers was not hurt, and that the lawyers and the "ambulance chaser" worked together toward the collection of a personal injury claim for $143 growing out of the accident, although they knew it was a fake.

Those accused in warrants are Burt A. Kaemmerer and Jack C. Hobart, associates in a law firm in the Paul Brown Building; Dr. Samuel Wolff, 2908 Union boulevard, and Arnold F. Hart, former clerk in the law office, who declared in a written statement to the Circuit Attorney that he was charged with the duty of "chasing ambulances for the lawyers," and that both of them and himself knew that the Pulvers "accident" was a fake.

Both Kaemmerer and Hobart denied knowledge that the "accident" was a fake, and declared the case was carried toward final settlement in the conviction that Pulvers had a just claim for damages.

Dr. Wolff Denies Charge.

Dr. Wolff declared in a statement today that he was innocent of knowledge that Pulvers' injuries were simulated.

"My name is being besmirched by men who don't know what the case is all about," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "If this man (Pulvers) was a mailinger in my office, he was also a mailinger at the City Hospital clinic, where physicians there found he showed symptoms of injury."

"My diagnosis of his injuries was entirely a subjective one. All I could do was treat the ailments from which he declared 'he was suffering.'"

Dr. Wolff's report in the case was taken from Kaemmerer's office yesterday afternoon after Kaemmerer had told Assistant Circuit Attorney McLaughlin the entire file was at the State's disposal. The report set forth that Pulvers' right knee was "swollen, discolored and painful on flexion."

His back was "spastic," that is, strained and unnatural in function. He "complained of pains when body was rotated or flexed; pressure over middle third of back painful."

It was stated in the report that the back was strapped, and that "rest, light diet, free catharsis and elevation of right extremity" were advised. The report concluded with the remark "estimated disability four weeks, partial disability three weeks."

Released on Bond.

Kaemmerer, Hobart and Dr. Wolff were released on $5000 bonds, Hart on $1500 bond. The Circuit Attorney entered the case last June when Pulvers visited the office of the Star and Times and there related that he had been asked to "have an accident" in the alley.

He was told to go ahead and the "accident" was observed by Assistant Circuit Attorney McLaughlin, a detective and employee of the newspaper. Pulvers declared that Hart called for him at City Hospital and took him to Dr. Wolff's office, where he told the physician he was not hurt. He declared Dr. Wolff told him: "Don't be a fool. The more treatment you have the more money you'll get."

Kaemmerer, Pulvers said, told him the next day that he "had done a good job." Both Pulvers and Hart declared that Attorneys Kaemmerer and Hobart knew the accident was a fake when they began negotiations with the North End Delivery Co., owner of the truck, for payment of damages. When both sides agreed to $143, the law firm had Pulvers sign releases which were sent to the delivery company. It was then that McLaughlin ordered the arrests.

Tells of Other Fake Cases.

In his statement to the Circuit Attorney, Hart charged that Kaemmerer's firm had participated in other fake accident cases of which he had knowledge. He asserted that among those who supplied tips to the firm on personal injuries in accidents were members of the Police Department who telephoned a report of accidents daily to the law office, a physician on the City Hospital staff who occasionally reported accidents, and an employee of the Police Department record room, who regularly delivered a typewritten list of new cases.

Hart visited the police record room this morning and pointed out a clerk as the man who had supplied Kaemmerer's office with a report of accidents. The clerk denied the charge and was told by Chief of Police Gerk to put his denial in writing.

City Hospital authorities are investigating Hart's charge that information about accidents came to the law firm from a physician there.

Officer of Bank Advertisers.

Frank Fuchs, advertising manager of the First National Bank, was elected vice-president of the Financial Advertisers' Association yesterday at the closing session of the association's annual convention at Chicago. He has been a director of the organization since 1924, and is former treasurer of the St. Louis Advertising Club.

Boy Hurt in Fall Off Porch.

Charles Helian Jr., 15-year-old son of Patrolman Helian of the Carr Street Station, suffered fractures of both arms last night when a porch railing gave way and he fell five feet to the pavement. The accident happened at 1147 Walton avenue.

RODEO PARADE HELD; WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Performances for Benefit of Welcome Inn Will Be Held for Eight Days at Arena.

A parade announcing the opening of the Welcome Inn Rodeo, which will begin tomorrow afternoon for eight days showing at The Arena, was held in the downtown district today.

Performances will be given nightly at 8:15. There will be afternoon performances tomorrow, Sunday, Wednesday and next Saturday at 2:15 o'clock.

The parade, featured by 50 cowboys and cowgirls in riding costumes on cow-ponies, assembled at Twelfth boulevard and Market street at noon, marched north to Olive street, east to Broadway, north to Washington, west on Washington and over to Lindell on Grand boulevard, where it disbanded.

Prairie schooner chuck wagons pulled by fine teams, gaily decorated automobiles, a band, ox teams and commercial exhibits were in line.

Robert E. Lee Jr., as marshal, led the parade. Following in automobiles were officers and committeewomen of Welcome Inn, including Mrs. Nat Brown, chairman; Mrs. G. E. Scott, Mrs. Harold Kramer,
Mrs. E. H. Thurston and Mrs.
Ben Carroll.

After the automobiles, rode the cowboys in wide sombreros, chaps and woolen shirts, many of them mounted on spotted pintos. With them rode a clown on a barrel-bodied burro.

Among the cowgirls were Florence Randolph of Ardmore, Ok., dressed in a blue velvet riding costume, who was the 1930 Madison Square Garden champion trick cowgirl. Near her in a black costume rode Bea Kirman, Fort Worth, Tex., world champion woman bronco buster. Other well-known cowgirls in the parade were Pauline Nesbitt, Fort Worth, trick rider, and Vaughn Johnson, Garden City,
Kan., trick and bronco rider.

Tommy Kirman, former champion trick roper, and Pete Knight of Calgary, the "Canada Kid," were among the cowboy riders.

At the first performance Mon-row, 6000 orphans will attend as guests of Welcome Inn. A feature of the rodeo is a polo contest between cowboys and the St. Louis

Country Club team to be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.
The performances will include fancy riding, bronco busting, calf riding, roping and bull wrestling.
Welcome Inn will receive 25 per cent of gross receipts.

Poor Boxes in Churches Robbed.
Poor boxes in two churches were broken open yesterday and the contents stolen. Three at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Sixth and Biddle streets, were robbed of $5, and two at Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Twentieth street and Linton avenue, of an undetermined amount. Damage to the boxes was more than the amounts taken.

By the Associated Press.
BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.
—Miss Elena Percy, 17 years old,
of West Feliciana Parish, arrived at Louisiana State University yesterday on horseback, driving fine head of cattle which she turned over the university to pay her freshman enrollment fees.
Her delivery of the cattle followed an announcement by Presi-

LEGION ELECTS L. A. JOHNSON AS NEW COMMANDER

Convention Adjourns After Voting for Bonus, Repeal and Larger Army and Navy.

By the Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 16.—
Immediate payment of the bonus and prohibition repeal were overwhelmingly demanded by the American Legion in its fourteenth annual national convention.

The 1200 delegates voted 10 to 1
for full adjustment of the bonus, less than 24 hours after President
Hoover had declared the $2,000-000,000 bonus bill would jeopardize economic recovery. Prohibition repeal was favored by a similar vote.

Before adjournment yesterday,
the convention elected Louis A.
Johnson, Clarkburg, W. Va., attorney, to succeed Henry L. Stevens Jr. of North Carolina, national commander. Next year's convention will be in Chicago.

The War Department was censured because envelopes franked by the department, containing statements printed on department stationery and written by Secretary of War Hurley on the bonus marchers, were placed on delegates' chairs.

Hurley is surprised.

Hurley, from Huron, S. D., expressed surprise at the distribution. He had gone from Portland to Huron to fill a speaking engagement. He said he had not authorized use of the frank. The envelopes were not postmarked.

Early in the final session legionaires showed their desire to vote on the bonus and prohibition, listening impatiently and frequently interrupting opponents of immediate bonus payment. The vote was 1167 to 103.

Brigadier-General Frank T.
Hines, veterans' administrator, had warned the convention at a previous session to "take into consideration the ability of the country to pay."

When prohibition was reached repeal was advocated, 1144 to 154.
The Legion goes into its new year pledged to support a larger army and navy, believing "America will never seek a war and a war will never seek a prepared America."
"Vigorously" opposed to recognition of Soviet Russia; opposed to the Griffin bill, which would permit naturalization of aliens without taking an oath of willingness to bear arms in defense of the United States.

Hoover Censure Killed.
A resolution which the Pennsylvania delegation had hoped to present to the convention, calling for censure of President Hoover because troops were used in evicting the bonus marchers from Washington, was killed in committee the night before the convention closed, dying for want of a second. No attempt was made to have the question taken to the floor, although the Pennsylvania group met or adjusted service certificate had declared such action would be taken.

Johnson, the new commander, will be assisted by vice commanders from the five districts: Charles A. Mills of Florida, John Maloney of Maine, W. H. Easterwood of Texas, Robert Flory of Nebraska, and Russell Meadows of Arizona.
The Rev. Irving Wood of Fossil, Id., was chosen as national chaplain.

Since a majority of the Executive Committee of the Legion was not present, appointment of the national adjutant, national treasurer, judge advocate and historian was postponed. The present officers will serve until November.

James F. Barton, national adjutant for the last seven years, has resigned to become general manager of the American Legion Publishing Co.
Auxiliary for Bonus, Too.
The American Legion Auxiliary in the closing session of its annual convention also went on record as urging full and immediate payment. Mrs. S. A. Blackburn of Ver-million, Ky., was elected and installed as president of the auxiliary. She was unopposed.

John A. Eldon, Cleveland attorney, was elected national head of the Forty and Eight, honorary fifth and service order of the Legion.
He immediately laid out a program for membership and welfare work among ex-service men, children and youths of his organization.
Among his objectives, Eldon named the launching of a national boxing program, patterned after the "Golden Gloves" tournament of the Middle West and East, to promote the spirit of fair play and American-ism. Vice-presidents elected included Louis G. Waldham, St. Louis.

AERONAUTICS EXPERT DIES
Carl F. Egge Laid Out Many Fields for Mail Service.
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 16.
Carl F. Egge, 60 years old, who laid out many landing fields for the nation's transcontinental air-mail service, died Wednesday night in a hospital after a year's illness.
His funeral will be held here Saturday.

Egge was one of 12 men who in 1919 received special gifts from the American Society of Mechanical Engineers for outstanding service in the advancement of aeronautics.
He began his government service as a railway mail clerk 40 years ago, and worked his way up until he eventually became general superintendent of the air mail.

Tub. Shell of porcelain tub is non-porous. VCO. Input. Steel Reamer is fused inside and out, right into the metal. Temperature changes will not injure the enamel.

THREADED DRAIN PLUG
Drain is threaded for hose connection. Permits rapid removal of tub. For bonus without a drain in the floor we recommend our filter and drain.

RUBBER TUB MOUNTING
Between the tub and metal base is a soft rubber cushion which prevents vibration and eliminates the noise found in many machines without this feature.

LEAK-PROOF CONSTRUCTION
Tub cannot leak at greater base, because gasket gets its power above water level. No machine glands of stuffing box to wear and leak. Oil cannot get into tub.

2 1/4 INCH BALLOON ROLLS Rolls are SOFT—and will NOT break buttons. Sever-

First of 100 Cases Growing Out of Complaints of Noise by Residents

One truck driver was fined $5 by Police Judge Blaine today in the first of 100 cases growing out of complaints of noisy trucks by residents along Lindell drive between Kingshighway and Skinker road. Validity of the charge, operating a commercial vehicle on a park drive, was not questioned in court, although city officials have disagreed on whether Lindell is a park drive or a public highway. Of the six cases docketed today, $5 costs was stayed on "good behavior" in two cases, one was continued and two were dismissed.

GOV. ROOSEVELT PLEDGES NEW ERA OF LIBERALISM

Candidate for President Tells Denver Hearers Democrats Favor Less Extravagant Rule.

By the Associated Press.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 16.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, pausing here for a two-hour stop on his campaign trip, to the Pacific Coast, told a crowd that he had had "assurances signed, sealed and delivered," in Missouri, Kansas and Colorado that those states would "do better than Maine," in the November election. Maine elected a Democratic Governor and two Congressmen last Monday.

"I have come here to get the same guarantee," the Governor added. He spoke from a temporary stand at the Union Pacific station. After the talk, the Democratic presidential nominee and his party drove around Cheyenne and visited Fort Warren, the famous rodeo grounds, and the veterans' hospital.

Tonight Gov. Roosevelt will reach Salt Lake City where tomorrow he will deliver the second of his major speeches of the Western swing. He will talk on the railroads. Last Wednesday he talked on farm relief at Topeka. The nominee said he was making the Western trip "to find out at first hand what the people of the different sections need."

"When I go down to Washington next March, I want to know the condition of all sections of the country," he added. "We have an opportunity next year to bring about national legislation to aid industry and agriculture together, not separately."

The Governor said he would make "a little trip into the Middle West," after the Pacific Coast journey. It is understood that Gov. Roosevelt will visit St. Louis and the border and Southern states on his second trip to start about the middle of October.

Gov. Roosevelt's train was backed up to the speaker's stand here, so that he walked from the rear end of the car on to the stand. A fringe of pine trees along the station lawn served as a background for the setting. In the crowd of several hundred clusters around were several Indians with gaudy blankets thrown over their shoulders.

Gov. George Dern of Utah joined the Governor's party here. In Salt Lake City, James A. Farley, national chairman, will join the party. Gov. Roosevelt told 110 leading Colorado Democrats in Denver last night: "When we take over control of the legislative and executive branches of the National Government next March we shall have the opportunity to revise the executive branch of the Government along lines sounder, less extravagant and designed for the greater good of the greater number."

Gov. Roosevelt in an impromptu speech at a dinner at the Brown Palace Hotel in Denver, said the Government of New York State during 12 of the last 14 years had been in the hands of the Democrats "because under the leadership of Alfred E. Smith, in the first instance, its Government was for the welfare of the average citizen."

"The Democratic party," said Gov. Roosevelt, "has had in the past to appeal to voters with calber and not dollars. That's true this time. We are about to enter a new period of liberalism in the United States. People have been going back in these last three years into fundamentals and are giving serious thought to the form of our Government."

Importance of Intelligent Vote. "If our representative form of government is to live, it must be based on an intelligent vote. A continuation of representative government along the lines laid down by the original founders is the only thing that will keep it going. Otherwise we shall come to some other form of government."

"If we get the young liberals in this campaign we are going to keep them for a generation. The seeds have been sown. Go through and reap the crop—and, believe me, the price will be greater than that which is now being received for farm products."

Gov. Roosevelt said he felt "very confident of the result this fall." "I have been running for public office, we in politics, for a long time," he added, "and I have got beyond the stage of going out and claiming everything in sight. There is a great movement of people who believe the time has come for a change. Of course, that's purely a negative vote, but there is a very definite change in the thinking of men and women."

Gov. Roosevelt, made another, shorter extemporaneous talk, soon after he arrived at the hotel, when he appeared on a mezzanine balcony and addressed a crowd of several hundred that had gathered in the lobby below. "This is not a campaign trip," he said. "I am making this trip to meet people in the different sections of the country and get acquainted with their problems to enable me when I go into the White House March 4 to deal with them on the basis of first hand knowledge."

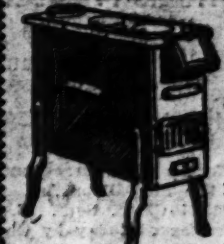

plan to follow the same policy that I have followed as Governor of New York and make frequent visits to the country instead of waiting for the country to come to Washington."

Roosevelt's Speech at Salt Lake on Railroads to Be Broadcast.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 17.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's speech on railroads will be delivered at the Mormon Tabernacle here starting at 8:15 p. m. (MST) tomorrow, Gov. George H. Dern, who is traveling with the nominee, informed his office today. The speech is to be broadcast by two national radio chains. The Utah Governor said the program for the presidential nominee's week-end stay in this city had been approved by Gov. Roosevelt.

Conferences with political leaders will be held at Gov. Roosevelt's hotel here tomorrow afternoon. A Chamber of Commerce luncheon will be followed by two hours of conferences in the afternoon. At 4:45 p. m. Gov. Roosevelt is to leave for the Mormon Tabernacle. After the tabernacle meeting he is to be the guest of party leaders at dinner. His program Sunday includes attendance, with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Roosevelt, and his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Dall, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. He will be the guest of Governor and Mrs. Dern at luncheon and afterward, he will go to the Capitol to attend a flower show and to hold a public reception in the Governor's chamber.

STARR SERVES NOTICE HE IS OUT FOR REGULAR JOB IN 1933

YOUNG REDBIRD PITCHER HOLDS DODGERS TO TWO HITS, WINS, 3-0

By J. Roy Stockton.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Ray Starr has established himself definitely as a candidate for consideration when Charles E. Street goes about the task next spring of selecting his pitching staff for the 1933 pennant race. Ray had excellent "clippings" last spring when he journeyed to Rochester, Fla., for a trial with the world champions, but sending a promising pitcher to the Cardinals then was like sending an old time to John D. Rockefeller.

Next year, however, it will be different and when the old Surgeon inspects his young burler he will find it difficult to forget a game the 24-year-old Starr pitched on Sept. 15, 1932, and even though he doesn't show a fast ball that would break through a frame house, Street probably will consider the young man a likely asset. Starr had won 20 games and lost only seven for Rochester in 1931, but despite that fine record he looked like nothing more than a wagon load of coal at Newcastle.

Early Notices.

He received the usual fine spring notices and, after a few days in camp, Street said that if he had to pick the best pitcher in camp at that particular moment, condition, curves and everything considered, he would have to name Raymond Starr. And then the other pitchers began to show their stuff. There were Haines and Halahan and Derringer and Johnson and Rhem and Lindsey and Stout, Dixie Dean and Tex Carleton displayed speed and curves and before the training season was over Starr was very far, Starr was cast into a shadow. It was decided that he lacked the fast ball necessary to make him a great pitcher and when he tumbled to the fact that he wasn't looked upon as such a hot prospect for a world championship team, he went to Manager Street and asked that he be sent back to Rochester.

Wall, Rochester, perhaps in sympathy with the Cardinals, went into a tailspin and had a bad season, and Starr had a bad year along with almost everything connected with the Cardinals. He won only 10 while losing a dozen games, and it was considered more or less a gesture, to give Street batting practice talent, while he was sent to the Cardinals at the Polo Grounds last Saturday. But it's all different now. Old Sergeant Street even finds courage to smile when he considers Starr and last evening, after the third after-victory meal of the trip, Street was looking at the young man out of the corner of his eye, as though watching a rival manager could come in and steal him.

Starr may be one of those highly troublesome major league pitchers—a soft-ball artist. Not that he has a weak arm. No, not at all. But he hasn't the speed of a Dean or a Derringer or a Carleton. But he has a plentiful supply of stuff and in holding the Dodgers to two hits yesterday and beating them, 3 to 0, he showed excellent control. He walked four men, but he was cutting the corners when in the hole and he heard Jimmy Wilson tell it, no fourth ball missed the plate by more than an inch and at least one should have been a third strike.

The Two Hits.

Johnny Frederick singled against the right field wall in the second inning and Starr then held the Dodgers hitless until the ninth when Joe Stripp singled to center. The great Joe Stripp, who was next at bat and the rabid Brooklyn fans yelled hopefully and Max Carey and his lieutenant, Casey Stengel, did their highland flings on the coaching line, trying to rattle Starr and inspire a rally.

But Ripper Collins leaped into the air for O'Doul's line drive, stepped on first for a double play and when Frederick popped to Collins, Carey and Stengel had to run to the clubhouse snarling under a shutout defeat at the hands of a recruit pitching his first full game in a major league.

Starr was in serious trouble only once, and in the pinch he showed confidence and craft. After Frederick's single in the second inning, Cuccinello walked and Wright sacrificed. Starr then walked Clancy, rather than give him anything good and he then pitched his curve so effectively that Lopez made the strategy good by hitting into a double play. Of course, one shouldn't become too excited over Starr's performance. One good game doesn't prove a man is a big league pitcher. But until he shows that it was just an accident, Manager Street will figure that he has one more excellent prospect for his 1933 pitching staff.

Wrong Diagnosis.

"Doctor Says He's Dead, but Bather Revives."

The doctor said the man was dead in accents sad and solemn. "I see," the young man promptly said.

"You have your error column."

Oh, Jim?

The Senators, whom the Browns looked upon as first cousins in the early part of the season, turned like a step-father and whaled the far out of them. You can't depend on your relations.

The Versatile Flea.

A British scientist has discovered that there are no two fleas alike. That's why dogs never find them monotonous.

NOT only is the wicked flea endowed with great agility. His vigor and vitality are great. He's long on versatility.

"Other Depressions as Deep as This."

Yep, and you ought to see the winters we used to have.

The Yankees have beaten all anti-shoutout records and are still going as this is being written.

SOME ball clubs now and then may spank 'em.

But it's a cold day when they spank 'em.

They count that day a total loss. When they can't put one run across.

If the Pirates hadn't put on the losing streak they would be ahead of the Cubs if the Cubs hadn't put on that winning streak.

There are no half-way measures about our Redbirds. They win or lose with great impressiveness.

The Yankees are now in the clear and will coast the rest of the year. Leaving poor old Joe McCarthy with nothing to worry about but the world series.

And it may be said in passing that Mase Joe is the best 350 worrier in either league. After all, he's been in the world series he will start right in worrying about next year.

Incidentally Lady Luck planted a well-placed kick where it would do the most good and booted Jimmy Burke into another world series.

When Jimmy was manager at Louisville he had the distinction of firing Joe who was a player on that team and told him as a player he had the makings of a good manager.

Jimmy's advice proved to be so good that when Joe was the manager of the Cubs his first act was to hire Burke as coach and later took him to New York with him.

And Was His Face Red?

MCCARTHY had a friend named Burke.

Who thought a lot of Joe.

And everywhere McCarthy went Jim Burke was sure to go.

He followed him one day to Chi. To help him win the flag.

And chance to little old N. Y.

Another one to bag.

A playing manager is no novelty but when Al Mameaux pitched and managed the Newark Bears into a pennant in the International League he must have made some kind of a record.

The dead jockey was Roy McCann, 27, of Elizabeth, N. J. Physicians said they believed his neck was broken.

The others injured are Paul Keefe, Washington, D. C., concussion of the brain, serious; D. Williams of Philadelphia, serious back injury; Jimmy Harrison, Wheeling, W. Va., fracture of shoulder and cuts; Horace Murdock of Media, Pa., fractured arm and collarbone; John Ryan of Philadelphia, fractured ribs, and L. Dunlap of Virginia, minor injuries.

The accident happened during the first race when McCann's mount, Election Lane, went to his knees at the far west turn of the track and then tumbled over. McCann was in third place at the time and the seven horses and riders behind fell over the prostrate animal.

FATS AND LEANS PLAY IN GAME TOMORROW

The St. Louis Association of Manufacturers' representatives will hold their fifth annual Fat and Lean ball game tomorrow at Heiman Park, University City.

Jack Joyce, who has pitched the Fat to four victories on previous occasions, will again do the hurling. R. R. Adams of the Kellogg company will do the pitching for the Leans. The public is invited.

SZABO TOSSES KIRCHMEYER IN COLISEUM BOUT

Sander Szabo pinned Reiland Kirchmeyer in the feature of last night's wrestling show at the Coliseum before fewer than 1500 spectators.

Kirchmeyer, it appeared, was on the verge of victory after applying two body scissors holds. He tried for another, from Szabo's front, and hooked his legs only partly around his opponent. Szabo shoved him backwards and blocked him for the fall in 37:17. Szabo was picked to win, but that he would do it in an unusual way was thoroughly expected.

Herb Freeman, New York Hebrew, opposed Matros Kerlenko, the Russian, in the former's St. Louis debut. Freeman was disqualified for slugging after 13:40. Freeman, at 232 pounds, carried loads of fat, had a lily-white skin, and otherwise appeared out of condition.

Earl McCready and Pat McGill went 30 minutes to a rather stormy draw, and Nick Latta tossed Vanya Zelesnak with a back body drop in 19:32. Italy and Hungary squared off in the opener in the persons of Bruno Goramini and Mahaly Orgo Vanyi. The thing was a draw.

Jim "Silver Lips" Kelly of Sportsman's Park wrestled with the names in the absence of Announcer Big Kenney.

Only 1237 persons, paying $932, saw the show.

ILLINOIS CRICKET TEAM TO PLAY AT FOREST PARK SUNDAY

Missouri and Illinois cricket teams will meet at Forest Park Sunday afternoon in an interstate match starting at 1:30 o'clock. The Illinois team, from Chicago, is rated as one of the strongest in the mid-west after holding the touring Australians to a draw in two games of their series in July. On Saturday, the Illinois team will play in Granite City, opposing the mid-west after holding the touring Australians to a draw in two games of their series in July. The semi-finals in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial Playground Ball championships will be played Saturday afternoon at Forest Park, ground No. 32, with Procter & Gamble meeting Wabash Club in the first game, beginning at 1:45, and Blue Banner playing Mercantile-Commerce at 3:15.

MEXICAN TEAM BEATS FORT WORTH CLUB, 3-2

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16.—The crack Mexican Gallos defeated the Fort Worth Cats of the Texas League in the opening game of an exhibition baseball series yesterday, 3 to 2. The Mexicans were outbatted but pushed over the winning run with two out in the ninth. Cox of Fort Worth was the batting star with four hits in as many times at bat.

PILGRIM GIRLS WIN AT INDOOR BASEBALL

The Pilgrim Evangelical Lutheran girls' indoor baseball team holds the championship of the St. Louis Weather League after defeating Bethlehem Evangelical in the deciding game of a three-game series, 15 to 3. Pilgrim won the first game, 15 to 6, and lost the second, 15-15.

WIRAX'S COLUMN

He's a Bear! Is He a Bear?

W E hope Mr. Anell Hoffman, who manages a likely looking 300-pound parcel—which he hopes is a prize package—in Max Bear, the heavyweight fight prospect, is not a nervous man. If he is, there is plenty to increase the tempo of his pulse.

To begin with, there is the question as to Max's future. If Mr. Hoffman entertains the same doubts as some of the customers who have viewed his fighter he must be worried over whether or not a 315 protegee is just a heavyweight clown with a future in the circus, or an embryonic champion, a young man, who has just begun to realize that he is a lot of places to go where he hasn't been.

Then again, there is the perplexing and disquieting report that Old Doc Kearns, who managed Jack Dempsey and who is now managing Mickey Walker, is thinking seriously of adding Bear to his "stable."

Coming Along Slowly.

As to the first unsettling symptom, it may be said that there has been considerable in the short pugilistic life of Bear to disquiet any man, particularly one who has been relying on Max as a meat ticket.

Bear has fought frequently and made some money for Hoffman. But his success has been just so-so. On what he has shown, Bear may be rated somewhere in the lower hope division.

However, recent victories over Kingfish Levinaky and Ernie Schaaf apparently have established the fact that he has passed the ham-and-egg crisis without cracking and may be considered a tough hombre as far as concerns the present second-rate crop of fight hopes. It is established that he is strong and game.

His record is spotted. He utterly failed to grab the spotlight quickly, as predicted he would. And the fact that he is fighting with the fight game rather than embracing it, caused him to be taken with a bit of salt. Max apparently thought more of his patent-leather hair and a capable dance companion than he did of his fight future.

Now that he's married it's different. Life's less of a joke. We will say for Max that he seems to be coming along and not putting back to the port from which he started. Mr. Hoffman can at least console himself with the thought that if his man is not a champion, hope as yet, neither is any other new heavyweight in the field.

Max Is Favorite Still.

MAX SCHEMELING continues to be favored in the betting for his fight with Walker, which was set back to Sept. 23 because Walker had boils. The boys who argue that one should never bet on fights think this is an unusually fine specimen to remain away from, in a speculative sense.

Apparently the stage is all set for Schemeling to plaster Walker decisively. He has youth, weight and punching power and he also owns a knockout victory over a man who recently outpointed Walker.

Seemingly nothing could be sweeter than this fight for Max. But it is precisely when fights appear to be all O K that the family plate is safest in the vault. When a fighter can win as cleanly as Maxie did when he beat Sharkey last June, and yet be returned a loser, you might just as well buy a first mortgage on a rainbow as invest money in a boxing contract.

Bowling Team Wanted.

The Junior Traffic Club Handicap League which bowls at Frank Heide's alleys on Monday nights at 7 o'clock, is in need of one team to complete an eight-club league. Any team or individual interested is requested to call Henry Stipp, Chick, Chestnut 3422, or Frank Heide.

Look Out for Doc.

AS to the Doc Kearns rumor, that merits attention. It is known that Kearns thinks a lot of Bear. A couple of years ago when Doc brought Mickey Walker here and fed him Tiger Kline as a light lunch, Kearns told this writer that the next champion of the world would be, in all probability, none other than Max Bear.

"Greatest prospect I ever saw," he observed. "Green yet, but big, game, a hitter and a natural fighter. He loves it. Watch him step, when they take him East."

We watched him, but Max was out of step at the time. While he interested some onlookers he didn't appeal so much to the judges. Max failed to take the East by storm and rather slipped out of the picture, after

MRS. DUEKER IN SEMIFINAL ROUND OF TENNIS MEET

Mrs. Virginia Dueker, O'Fallon Park tennis star, who is defending her title in the St. Louis District women's tennis championship at the Arlene A. Club, reached the semifinal round, defeating Evelyn Caporal, Marquette Park player, yesterday afternoon, 6-1, 6-1.

In the only upset, Verona Lindemann won from Wilma Benson in a second round match, 6-2, 7-5. Miss Benson was seeded second.

Mrs. Ethel Schneider had busy day, winning two matches. In the first, she defeated Eleanor Tribout, East St. Louis champion, 6-1, 6-2, 6-0, in an unfinished match. After a few minutes rest, Mrs. Schneider won from Mrs. Violet Bolt, 6-1, 6-0, to reach the quarterfinal round.

In the remaining singles contest, Mrs. Johanna Benisek outplaced Eleanor Conant to win, 6-2, 6-2. Following this match, Mrs. Benisek teamed with Miss Lindemann to defeat the Forest Park pair, Rose Adler and Lois Keene, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

All three matches in the quarterfinal round of the singles to be played this afternoon, weather permitting, should result in close contests. Mrs. Ann Lindemann may oppose Frances Jacobson in a match likely to go three sets. Miss Jacobson has shown much improvement over last year, but lacks the playing experience of her opponent. Mrs. Benisek is favored to win from Mrs. Schneider. The match between Lotie Hagemeier and Miss Lindemann may be hard fought. As the result of her victory over Miss Benson, Miss Lindemann is favored.

Yesterday's Results.

SINGLES
First round—Mrs. Benisek defeated Tribout, 6-1, 6-2, 6-0.
Mrs. Lindemann defeated Benson, 6-2, 7-5.
Mrs. Schneider defeated Bolt, 6-1, 6-0.
Mrs. Benisek defeated Conant, 6-2, 6-2.
Mrs. Lindemann and Benisek defeated Adler and Keene, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

By the Associated Press.
ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 16.—The Islanders went one up on Davenport in the third game of the Mississippi Valley League playoff last night, winning 4 to 2. Al Hollingworth saved the day when he went into the box in the second inning with the bases loaded and none out, retiring the side and allowing the visitors but three hits the remainder of the game.

Yankies Get Deshong.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The New York Yankees yesterday announced the purchase of Jimmie Deshong, right-handed pitcher from the Sacramento Club of the Pacific Coast League. Deshong formerly was with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Alexander, Hero of Cardinals' 1926 World Series Victory to Face Birds in Exhibition Game

Grover Cleveland Alexander, hero of the 1926 world series, will go to the mound at Sportsman's Park when the Cardinals play the House of David Club, of which Alex is the manager, next Thursday evening. This announcement was made this morning by Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals. The occasion will be known as "Alexander Night."

The illumination for the night game, which will be the first ever played in Sportsman's Park, will be provided by the House of David portable lighting system which is transported about the country on trucks. This lighting system is said to be as good as the best in the minor leagues.

The House of David club is a traveling team of bearded ball players. Alexander, alone, on the team, is clean shaven. It is one of the strongest semi-professional clubs in the country. Several members of the team have played on minor league clubs of high classification, and according to Alexander, he has two or three on his club who are sought by big league teams for 1933.

Alexander has led his club to victory over some of the best clubs in the minors, having defeated Rochester, Minneapolis, Chattanooga, Hartford and Birmingham last year. Minneapolis is leading in the American Association and Chattanooga won the Southern Association pennant a few days ago. In addition, the bearded boys are close to winning over a major league club. On Aug. 1, they opposed the Braves in Boston in a night game and were noosed out 1 to 10 in 10 innings.

Alex is expected to hurl a couple of innings against his old club, the Cardinals, when they play in Boston when the House of David club played the Braves and reported that Alexander still displayed flashes of his old stuff, and also possesses his remarkable control. During his career in the majors, Alex could put the ball almost anywhere he wanted to, and in many years this excellent control was his principal asset.

Alex holds the National League record for total victories, owning 373 decisions during his 21 seasons with the Phillies, the Cubs and the Cardinals.

Alexander is 45 years old and has been with the House of David club since 1929, when he was given an unconditional release by the Cardinals.

BROWN TO MEET MILES IN BATTERY A BOUT

Max Brown, Oklahoma heavyweight, has agreed to face Johnny Miles, local scrapper, in a six-round boxing card next Wednesday night at the Battery A. Brown, who stands six feet, three inches, lost to John Schwake and won over Dave Knecht in his other bouts with local battlers.

In the pair of 15-rounders, Lou Turry, South Side knockout artist, battles Gyp Zarro, Oklahoma Arab, and Dave Barry, featherweight star, opposes Harry Fierro, Chicago Italian.

MINOR INJURIES HANDICAP WORK IN BIG 6 CAMPS

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 16.—Casualties, all of a minor nature, are beginning to make their appearance in Big Six football practice now that the workouts are becoming more strenuous.

Several minor injuries were reported yesterday at Kansas State, following an hour of scrimmaging in which the "A" team was the offensive. Eugene Wiseman, sophomore center, was treated at the college hospital for a leg infection. The Oklahoma University squad has a pair of casualties, the result of two days of hard scrimmaging. Coach Lewis Hardage, however, based up on the Sooners yesterday, after an hour of drill on new plays, the backs took to the tackling during their defensive tactics.

The sick and injured list at Kansas includes Art Baker, veteran tackle, who will be out for a week with a twisted knee. Ray Dumm, back, who is suffering from boils, and Frank Watkins, center, who has a severe cold. Arch Stuck, better end, won the prize of a week's coaching when he broke the tackle, which was a vicious lunge. Coach Frank Carideo continued to experiment with his Missouri line, but made no change in scrimmage. Blocking the Gill-Johnsoning Hatfield backfield he devoted the semidmentals. Approximate lineups reported and expected for the Northwestern game. They meet in scrimmage tomorrow. ## JAMES W. JOHNSON ESTATE

Widow Receives Bulk of Manufacturer's Property.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Caroline Kay Johnson, the widow, receives most of the estate of James W. Johnson of Bernardsville, retired president of Johnson & Johnson of New Brunswick, who died at sea Sept. 1. No inventory of the estate is given with the will, admitted to probate yesterday.

Requests to the widow include the home in Bernardsville, all personal effects, and $400,000 in cash. Mrs. Johnson was the former Miss Caroline McBain of Patarey, Scotland, nurse to Johnson and the first Mrs. Johnson, who died in 1921. They were married in 1921. A number of institutions in New Brunswick share in the estate.

Beggars Robs Doctor.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 16.—A beggar assaulted and robbed Dr. H. O. Leonard Jr. last night when the physician refused a request for a dime to buy a cup of coffee. Dr. Leonard was robbed of his watch and a dollar.

HOME TOWN PARADES

AT RALLY FOR WINTER

Republican Opens Campaign at

Warrenton; Rakes Kansas

City Machine.

By the Associated Press.

WARRENTON, Mo., Sept. 16.—

Lieutenant-Governor E. H. Winter officially launched his campaign for the governorship last night in his home town.

Bands played, a torchlight parade moved through Warrenton streets and "Winter for Governor" banners were carried as Republicans of the town, where for 20 years

he was a newspaper publisher, turned out to celebrate the formal opening of his campaign. Delegations of Republicans from all counties of the old Ninth Congressional District and from Jefferson

City and St. Louis, as well as Republican candidates, also joined in the rally.

The torchlight parade was led by a Negro band while the Central

Western College community band played at the Courthouse lawn,

where he spoke to a throng that crowded the lawn and overflowed into the street. Nearly 100 children marched in a parade of their own, stepping to the rhythmic beating of tin pans and carrying posters.

Kansas City Machine.

In his address, Lieutenant-Governor Winter charged that a "corrupt political machine dominates

all elections" in Kansas City and

"terrorizes decent citizens and keeps the control of that city in the hands of its worst elements."

Winter pledged the Republican party to "do all in its power to prevent the evil from spreading to the entire State."

After outlining the Republican

State platform he said: "In contrast to this, I call your attention to the Democratic platform which contains not a single suggestion for either simplification or economy in government, other than an indorsement of a proposition suggested by the farmers' organization."

Winter said he did not "believe it possible for a government of the people to be maintained and yet have government continue to take from our citizens their most prized possessions—their homes, their farms and their business enterprises—for the support of a government that has become too costly." Taxes, he said, "must be brought down and this will mean that the structure of government must be brought down also." This should be done, he added, in such a way as to safeguard the interests of the people.

Government's Growth.

"Growth of Government by boards, bureaus and commissions has added useless taxes from which the people should be relieved.

Some of these boards and commissions should be abolished entirely;

others that perform a related service should be consolidated, and this can be accomplished without in any way impairing any needs of public service. I favor a careful study of our entire governmental structure with the view of placing it upon a simple and more efficient basis, and therefore bringing it down to such a point as will make it possible for the taxpayer to again bear the burden."

Financial Advertisers' Election.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—H. A. Lyon of the Bankers' Trust Co. of New York, was elected president of the Financial Advertisers' Association

yesterday. Frank Fuchs of the First National Bank in St. Louis was elected third vice-president.

OUSTED JUDGE DEMANDS PAY

New Jersey Vice-Chancellor Resigns Who That Provision.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 16.—

Vice-Chancellor Alonso B. Church, dropped from the state payroll last

May, today submitted his resignation, contingent on the payment of back salary from the time his name was struck from the payroll until the resignation becomes effective.

Chancellor Edwin Robert Walker

demanded Church's resignation

after discovery of an alleged shortage of $185,000 in the accounts of

Harry G. Hendricks, who was appointed by Church as a co-receiver for the Earl Radio Corporation.

When Church refused to resign,

the Chancellor removed him from active participation in Chancery

Court affairs and instructed the clerk to remove Church's name from the payroll. Church, a native of Chicago, was a son of the late Alonzo Church, who was counsel for the Chicago &amp; Alton Railroad and later librarian in the United States Senate. As a vice-chancellor Church received $18,000

a year.

WACONIA SORGHUM CO IS SUED FOR RECEIVER

It Consents to Action — Described As Only Commercial Manufacturer in U. S.

Suit for a receiver for the Waconia Sorghum Mills, having its principal office in St. Louis, was filed in Federal Court yesterday by the American Syrup & Sorghum Co. of Missouri, a creditor, which asserted the Waconia company was without sufficient funds to meet current and shortly maturing obligations.

On filing the suit, Morris G. Levinson, attorney for the petitioner, applied to Federal Judge Davis in chambers for the receiver. Judge Davis took the application under advisement.

The suit alleged that the Waconia company defaulted in payment of a $15,000 note due the petitioner on May 1 and that an additional $45,000 in debenture notes became due and payable on the default under the terms of the notes.

As security for the $60,000 in unmatured notes, the Waconia company last January gave to the petitioner a note for $125,000 secured in turn by a mortgage on the Waconia plant at South Fort Smith, Ark., the suit set forth.

In addition, it was alleged, the petitioner guaranteed $60,000 of Waconia notes held by the Franklin American Trust Co.

Other Waconia indebtedness, according to the petition, includes about $80,000 in notes matured serially in the last four months of this year and $75,000 borrowed in Minneapolis, Louisville and Fort Smith, for which merchandise is pledged. The Waconia company issued about $76,000 in warehouse receipts on merchandise held in storage and sacrificed large amounts of other merchandise at low prices to meet current obligations.

The suit stated that the Waconia company, with plants at South Fort Smith, Cedar Rapids, La., and Waconia, Minn., was the only commercial manufacturer of sorghum in the United States. The company is incorporated in Delaware. Its president is Edward Wessale of St. Louis, the suit said.

The Cedar Rapids and Waconia plants were incumbered by first mortgages totaling $130,000, the petition stated.

SPRINGFIELD OFFICIALS FIND NEW LIGHT RATES BEWILDERING
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 16.—
Mayor Harry D. Durst and the City Council will seek expert advice before any answer is given the Springfield Gas and Electric Co. concerning its proposed new commercial rate schedule, officials say.

The council has received an offer from the company to make reductions totaling $52,000 yearly in commercial lighting rates, and to concede the city $5000 on a street lighting bill it now owes.

Council members expressed bewilderment at the new schedule.
They looked forward to additional information which W. H. Swift Jr., manager of the company, agreed to furnish.

The Gas and Electric offer, which Swift said would be its final proposition to the city, was submitted at a conference with the council late Tuesday.

The commercial lighting schedule offered by the Gas and Electric Co. makes the "demand" or total connected load, the basis upon which charge is made.

M. D. Lightfoot, president of the Taxpayers' Conservation League, frequently challenged statements of the utility officials, and engaged in heated clashes.

Winners in Garden Contest Get Cup and $200 in Cash

Mrs. F. E. Heilmann, 3529 South Second Street, Awarded Angert Trophy by Horticultural Society.

Winners of the Eugene Angert cup for "signal achievement against overwhelming difficulties" and $200 in cash prizes have been selected in the 1932 contest of the Horticultural Society.

Most impressive and most gratifying was the fact that the contest resulted in beautiful gardens for not only the 14 contestants, but for hundreds of St. Louisans. C. B.
Nicholson, contest chairman, said today. The winning entries will be open to the public for one week beginning Sunday. Visitors will see whole neighborhoods of pretty gardens, for the neighbors of every contestant had been enthusiastic in "keeping up with the Joneses" in that respect, at least.

"And that is just what we're after," Nicholson added. "The whole purpose of the contest is to interest the public for one week in the attractive surroundings they can create for themselves with a few plants and flowers, a little effort and a little taste. And the matter of taste was another way in which the 1932 contest has been eminently successful. Everywhere the judges were impressed by marked improvement in design and arrangement, which are quite as important as the flowers themselves."

Just off the railroad tracks, surrounded by factories and smokestacks, the judges found a garden treasure at the home of Mrs. F. E.
Heilmann, 3529 South Second street. The neatly whitewashed picket fence and house made it

by Shaw's Garden, and in addition, the Horticultural Society gave eight prizes of $10 each for excellence along particular lines.

Three of these prizes went to those who won them last year—
in lawns to Matthew Voney, 2923
Sullivan avenue, who maintains a seed bent lawn, as the judges commented, "in the most difficult surroundings possible, surrounded by crabgrass lawns and besieged by smoke;" in perennialials to Mrs.

F. J. Nawrocki, 4406 Osceola street, and in water lilies to Miss Genevieve B. Celler, 3873 Holly Hills boulevard, who also won the rock garden prize last year.

The rock garden prize for 1932 went to George E. Brenner, 4632 Tower Grove place, whose backyard—and not merely his rock garden—is a show place of the neighborhood. The prize in annuals was awarded to Fred Breitenreuther, 5405 Gresham avenue; shrubs, Mrs.

Julia Frances Fillo, 4949 Neosho street; roses, Mrs. E. Ley, 4550
Claxton avenue; vegetable garden, Mrs. Emma C. Marx, 5202 Goodfellow avenue.

Special certificates for overcoming extraordinary obstacles were awarded to I. T. Browne, who transformed an unsightly alleyway into a lovely terraced garden in the rear of the apartment building where he lived, 5502 Delmar boulevard, an example the society commended to other apartment dwellers; Mrs. Carrie Noll, 2374

Dover place; Edwin H. Daffner, a commercial artist, who built a fanciful pool, with life-like carved at 3419 California avenue.

birds and animals, in his tiny yard at 5374 Wanda avenue; Daffner's neighbors, Mrs. Charles O. Erb, 5944 Wanda, and Mrs. Elsie E. Merkel, 5940 Wanda; Mrs. Edward H.
Dunker, 3223 University street, and
C. F. Cronacher, one-time roommate of the late Joseph Pulitzer, founder of the Post-Dispatch, who at 33 still tends his garden daily at 3419 California avenue.

What is Mallory
"Cravenette"?

Mallory "Cravenette" is a patented process for making both body and band of a hat imper-meable to moisture. It is invisible and does not affect color, texture or weight. "Cravenette" prolongs the wear and preserves the looks of a hat. Only a Mallory is "Cravenette"-Processed.

Good news! This fall, you pay only $3.50 or $5 for the same luxury-quality Mallory Hat that formerly sold at $5 and $7. And—you get all the exclusive Mallory features, including the "Cravenette" Weather-Proof Process which is, by laboratory test, 85% more moisture-proof than hats not so treated.
In addition, Mallory Hats not only resist wear and weather, but also perspiration. Where else can you get so much value in a hat as in a Mallory?

CHOICE OF SUGAR IS IMPORTANT FACTOR

Sugar, which shall we use, cane or beet? This is a question women are asking at this season when making jelly and jam.

The answer to this question is the difference between clear and firm jelly and jams and jelly that crystallize.

Sugar is derived from several sources, but that principally manufactured for household use and for the preservation, cooking and flavoring of foodstuffs is extracted from sugar cane or sugar beets. The home-maker who would select the best sugar for the purpose needed must familiarize herself with the terms used by sugar manufacturers and merchants so that she will purchase with intelligence. Both cane and beet sugar are offered in granulated form. There is sold on the market today a sugar labeled as "pure granulated" sugar which simply means that the sugar is in grain form, but does not in any way indicate whether it is beet or cane. Neither does it describe the size of the grain and experience will teach that the size of the crystals is important. There are some granulated sugars which have a grain so fine it resembles more a powdered sugar and other sugar with a grain size that is suitable for nearly every purpose in the household use. This is a small fine-grain, but not too fine, snowy white sugar with each crystal separate. Cane Sugar Preferred.

Most women prefer cane sugar to beet sugar, for every purpose and for this reason all cane sugar is plainly labeled "pure cane sugar." While both cane and beet sugar contain practically the same amount of sucrose (sweetening) cooks tell us there is quite a difference in the physical characteristics which are not noticeable to the eye. It is seen in the difficulty in getting the smooth, velvety finish in the cakes or candy, and making it unusually hard to get the right consistency in preserves and jellies, when beet sugar is used. Some cooks have learned through experience just how to get good results from beet sugar, but it requires special care and study.

WEEKLY FRUIT AND VEGETABLE GOSSIP

Brussels Sprouts, Broccoli and Hubbard Squash Back Again.

As some of the summer vegetables slow up, others which are counted among the winter favorites begin to come in. Brussels sprouts, Hubbard squash and broccoli are among the latest to swell the lavish supply of vegetables.

Broccoli within the last two years has grown greatly in favor. It is among the foods valuable for its mineral salts and bulk. The leaves, center and stalk, may be put in plenty of boiling water, cooked about 15 minutes and served with butter or white sauce. And perhaps a hint as to cooking squash may be welcomed, for sometimes it is tasteless and uninviting when it can be so very good.

Cut or break squash in large pieces, place the pieces in a large baking pan and put one or two teaspoons butter, half a teaspoon brown sugar and a little salt and pepper in each piece of squash. Bake in a slow or very moderate oven for an hour, or until tender, basting several times during cooking.

Peaches Still Coming In. Peaches still pour in from many states. New York, Idaho and Michigan sending in big shipments. Crabapples are plentiful and damson plums may still be obtained. Grapes for jelly are flooding the markets.

Table grapes of fine quality and several varieties are moderate in price as are delicious eating pears.

BOOM go the guns!

Delicious, nourishing breakfast! Cool lunches! Easily digested suppers for children! Puffed Grains give extra crispness... turn to energy in a hurry, because they're shot from guns. It's this famous process that breaks open thousands of food cells in every grain. Steam cooks the contents. Makes Puffed Grains so digestible that a single dish with milk and sugar gives the energy value of a baked potato or lamb chop. In addition these grains have just been made twice as crisp as ever before. Get Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice from your grocer today.

CLAMS ARE NEWCOMER IN THE FISH MARKETS

Rival Merits of New York and New England Chowders Set Forth.

Clams have joined their oyster cousins and are priced lower than last year's first arrivals.

There are many delicious ways of serving clams, notably chowder. There's a dispute of long standing as to whether the New York or New England chowder is better.

We give both recipes and also a fresh corn and clam baked dish, which is very good.

New York Chowder.

Use two dozen large clams and prepare like for New England chowder below, chopping the hard part and leaving the soft part whole. Cut a half pound fat salt pork in small dice and fry until yellow, add one cup sliced onions and continue cooking until the onions are yellow. Then add four cups diced potatoes, the hard part of the clams, the clam juice, one quart canned tomatoes, one cup sliced celery and four cups boiling water. Heat to the boiling point, add one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon powdered thyme and pepper to season. Cook slowly until the vegetables are tender, then add the soft part of the clams and one cup rolled cracker crumbs. Serve with hard crackers.

New England Chowder.

For six people it will require two dozen large clams. Have these opened and be sure to save all the juice. Pour one cup cold water over the clams and then strain the juice and the water together through a fine strainer. Cut the hard part of the clams into small bits or chop them coarsely. Leave the soft parts whole and keep them separate. Cut one-half pound fat salt pork into small dice and fry in a soup kettle until beginning to brown. Add two large onions, sliced, and cook until yellowed. Then add the strained clam juice, four cups diced potatoes and the chopped clams. If there is not enough juice to cover the potatoes add water necessary. Cover and cook slowly for 20 minutes or until the potatoes are tender. Then add the soft part of the clams and reheat to the boiling point. Add one

cob. Mix two and one-half cups fine soft breadcrumbs with one-half cup melted butter, one-half to one teaspoon salt, a little pepper and one teaspoon celery seed. Spread one-third of the crumbs in a buttered baking dish, add half the clams and cover the clams with half the corn. Add half the remaining crumbs, the rest of the clams and corn, and then a final layer of crumbs. Cover and bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes until browned on top. Serve hot. If the clams are not juicy, add one-half to one cup milk.

quart of milk; four tablespoons butter, one cup rolled cracker crumbs and salt and pepper to season. Serve very hot with plenty of hard crackers.

Escalloped Clams and Corn.

Chop two dozen hard clams, saving the juice and mixing it with the chopped clams. Measure two cups cooked green corn cut from the

cob. Mix two and one-half cups fine soft breadcrumbs with one-half cup melted butter, one-half to one teaspoon salt, a little pepper and one teaspoon celery seed. ### SPICED CRABAPPLE JELLY IS ONE OF THE VERY BEST

Wash eight pounds of firm, red crabapples, and scrub the skins well. Cut the apples in quarters and remove the stem and blossom end. Cover with cold water and cook rapidly until the apples are soft. Strain through several thicknesses of cheesecloth and press the bag gently to start the flow of juice but do not squeeze it, as that will give a cloudy jelly.

Never make up more than six cups of juice at one time. To each cup of juice use one cup sugar. Boil rapidly until the jelly test is reached, that is, until the jelly sheets from the spoon.

Let stand a minute or two, remove the scum, and pour into hot sterilized glasses. When set, cover with melted paraffin.

When the juice and sugar are combined and ready to cook to the jelly test, drop in a cheesecloth bag containing four or five whole cloves and two or three short pieces of stick cinnamon, and remove before pouring the jelly into the glasses.

LEMON PUDDING SAUCE

One-half cup sugar, two-thirds cup water, five teaspoons lemon juice, one teaspoon cornstarch, wet with two teaspoons of cold water. Cook sugar and water together for two minutes, then add the cornstarch, and cook five minutes. Cool and add lemon juice.

Butterscotch Sauce.

Mix one and one-half cups brown sugar, one-half cup white corn syrup, one-half cup white sugar, one cup boiling water and boil gently eight minutes. Remove from fire, add 18 marshmallows and beat well.

JELLIED APPLES ARE GOOD IN SLICED BANANA MOLD

Peel, core and quarter six medium sized summer apples. Mix one cup sugar with one and one-half cups water and add a thin strip of lemon peel. Boil for 5 minutes, then simmer apple quarters in the syrup until tender but not broken. Arrange cooked apples and three sliced bananas in a mold that has been wet with cold water. Pour one cup boiling water over a package of cherry flavored gelatin, stir until dissolved, then add the juice of one lemon and the apple sugar syrup left after cooking the apples. Pour over the fruit in the mold, and when cold "set" in the refrigerator to chill and set. Turn out on a cold plate and garnish with whipped cream.

PLANNING THE MENU: RECIPES FOR THE WEEK

Buy Roast Beef in Accord With
The Size of the Family.

A sirloin or rib roast is suggested for Sunday dinner in the week's menus published today. For a small family a cut of the first rib or the second will be most economical, while a larger family will use both ribs, or a five or six pound piece or sirloin. A sirloin roast has no bone and for that reason is more economical, but since this cut is best in the weight just mentioned, or even larger than that, it is not so well adapted to the needs of a small family. A first rib cut will weigh from three to three and one-half pounds, while the first two ribs will weigh around six pounds. Such roasts may be boned and rolled or may be left as a "standing" roast, with the ends well cracked. Allow 20 minutes cooking for each pound for a medium well done roast, 25 minutes for a well done one and 15 minutes for a rare roast. In all cases allow 10 minutes cooking in a hot oven—450 to 500 degrees to sear the meat, then reduce the heat to 350 degrees and count your time per pound from this period on.

The cold roast is utilized to make a beef and mushroom pie for dinner Monday night. Make a rich brown stew from the left-over meat and gravy, flavoring it with onion and celery. When done, thicken the gravy with flour, add one-half pound mushrooms for four people and pour into a baking dish. Cover with a biscuit crust rolled a quarter inch thick and bake in a hot oven for 25 minutes, until the crust is brown. It is a good idea to plan a baked pudding for dessert with this and so make use of all the oven heat. Plums are still in market and a plum betty is just enough to make a good dinner combination for the pie. Serve it warm with hard sauce.

Cabbage Soup.
Melt three tablespoons meat drippings or any shortening in a large saucepan and add one-half cup sliced onions, one-fourth cup minced parsley and one-half cup sliced celery. Cover and cook slowly until yellowed but not brown. Then add two quarts of boiling water, four bouillon cubes and a medium-sized head of cabbage, which has been shredded as for slaw. When boiling, add two cups canned tomatoes and one-half cup well-washed rice. Boil gently for 25 minutes or until the rice and cabbage are tender. Season to taste with salt and pepper and add one tablespoon grated cheese to each portion when serving. Serves six. This is a thick soup that makes a nourishing and wholesome main course for lunch or supper.

Plum Betty.
Crumb enough stale bread to make four cupsful. Wash two dozen large, tart plums and cut them in half, removing the pits. Butter a baking dish. Melt one-half cup butter or any preferred shortening and add to the bread crumbs with one cup sugar. Mix and then spread an inch layer on the baking dish. Cover with a layer of the plums, placed cut side down and close together. Add another layer of crumbs about half an inch deep and then another layer of plums and repeat until all are used, having crumbs for the top layer. Dot the top with one tablespoonful butter cut in small pieces and add one-half cup water. Cover and bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes, uncover and continue baking for 20 minutes longer until the top crumbs are crisp and brown. Serve warm with hard sauce or cream.

Panned Oysters and Celery.
Select large oysters and go over each one to remove any bits of shell. Drain off the juice. For two dozen oysters allow two cups finely sliced celery. Melt two tablespoons butter in a heavy frying pan, add the celery, cover and cook slowly for 10 minutes, being careful that the celery does not brown. Sprinkle with three-fourths teaspoon salt and three-fourths teaspoon paprika and add the oysters. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally until the oysters are plump and the edges curled. This takes about 10 minutes or less. Stir in one teaspoon lemon juice and serve at once on thin slices of crisp toast. Two dozen oysters will serve four.

Escalloped Spinach, Eggs and Cheese.
Use two cups fresh cooked or canned spinach, well drained and chopped very fine. Season with salt, pepper and two tablespoons melted butter. Put half the spinach in a rather shallow greased baking dish. Cover the spinach with four sliced hard-boiled eggs and sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Add the rest of the spinach and then pour one cup rich white sauce (one cup milk, one tablespoon each butter and flour) over the spinach. Sprinkle with a thick layer of grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven for 20 minutes or until the cheese is browned and the mixture bubbling. Serve hot. Chicken a la Creole.

Have a stewing chicken cut in pieces for serving. Slice each piece, rinse with cold water, drain and sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour. Melt one-fourth cup shortening in a large saucepan, add a shredded green pepper and a large onion cut in slices. Cook slowly for five minutes, add the chicken and cook for 10 minutes. Then add one quart boiling water, one quart canned tomatoes, one tablespoon salt and two whole cloves. Cover and simmer for two hours or until the chicken is almost tender. Add one cup well washed rice and continue cooking until both the rice and the chicken are done. Remove the chicken to a hot platter and serve the rice as a vegetable. It should have taken up most of the liquid by the time it is cooked. Serves six to eight.

THRIFTY FRENCH COOK VEAL RUMP WITH THREE VEGETABLES

Two pounds veal rump, one pint soup stock, two onions, two carrots, six slices bacon, one cup canned peas, thyme, parsley and bay leaf.

Wipe veal with a damp cloth and rub well with one and one-half teaspoons salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Lay strips of bacon in the bottom of a baking dish and add the sliced onions and carrots, two sprigs thyme, two bay leaves and a few sprigs of parsley. Place the veal on top of this and cover with additional strips of bacon. Cover and bake in a slow oven. When done remove meat and let drippings cook for a few minutes with the vegetables. Then add stock and boil 15 minutes. Strain, add peas and cook 10 minutes. Serve with veal.

This makes a most savory dinner of a very cheap cut of meat, and is an all-in-one meal.

ORANGE, RAISIN AND GRAPE MARMALADE WITH WALNUTS

Pick over three and one-half pounds of grapes, removing grapes from stems and discarding any soft or bruised ones. Rinse with cold water, place in a kettle and mash thoroughly. Heat to boiling point, simmer for 10 minutes, then rub through a coarse sieve, forcing through pulp and most of skins. Measure mixture and to each four cups add four cups sugar, one pound seedless raisins, chopped, the grated rind of one large orange and the orange pulp and juice. Heat slowly to boiling point and then boil for 20 minutes or until a little of the mixture dropped on a cold plate stiffens to the consistency of marmalade.

Remove from fire, let stand 20 minutes, then stir in one cup chopped walnut meats and let stand again for 15 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. When about half cold, pour into sterilized jelly jars and seal at once with melted paraffin.

Grape Jam.
Four and one-half cups prepared fruit, seven cups sugar, one-half bottle pectin.
Slip skins from about three pounds fully ripe grapes. Simmer pulp, covered, five minutes. Remove seeds by sieving. Chop or grind skins and add to pulp. Add one-half cup water and if desired, grated rind of one orange. Stir until mixture boils. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes. Wild grapes, Malagas and other tight-skinned grapes may be stemmed, crushed whole, simmered with one-half cup water 20 minutes, sieved and then measured. With tight-skinned grapes add juice of one lemon to water. Use four cups prepared fruit.

Grape Jelly.
Four cups juice, seven and one-half cups sugar, one-half bottle pectin.
Stem about three pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add one-half cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Grape Butter.
Four and one-half cups prepared pulp, seven cups sugar, one-half bottle pectin.
Measure sugar and pulp into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 eight-ounce glasses.

CHOCOLATE SLICES
Two eggs, two-third cup water, one-half cup cocoa, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one cup sugar, one and three-quarters cup flour, 2 teaspoonful baking powder.
Beat egg yolk until thick and lemon colored. Add sugar and salt. Mix well. Mix cocoa, baking powder and flour. Add alternately with water to first mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Pour into shallow pan lined with wax paper. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven. Turn out onto a towel covered with confectioners' sugar or marshmallow fluff. Remove waxed paper. Spread with sweetened whipped cream. Roll. Dust with confectioners' sugar. To serve, cut in slices.

Mint Salad.
To the juice and slices of four large oranges add sugar to taste and two tablespoons of finely chopped mint. Flavor with one tablespoon of lemon juice and serve with leaves of fresh mint.

Good looks aren't always luck

Sparkling eyes and a smooth complexion depend on good health. The beautiful woman guards against constipation. She knows this condition can cause headaches, sallow skin, dull eyes, pimples, premature aging.

Protect yourself from constipation by eating a delicious cereal. Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. In addition, ALL-BRAN furnishes blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. How much easier than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

THIN PANCAKES WITH JELLY FOR SUNDAY NIGHT DESSERT

Mix one and one-half cups cake flour with one-fourth teaspoon salt and two teaspoons baking powder. Add two tablespoons powdered sugar and sift the mixture. Beat two egg yolks until light, mix with one cup milk and add to the flour. Next add three tablespoons melted butter and then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs.

Bake in very thin cakes in a small frying pan—one cake at a time. Melt one-half teaspoon butter in the pan, pour in enough batter to just cover the bottom and cook until brown, then turn over. Spread each pancake with jelly and roll up as soon as done. Arrange on a hot platter, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve hot as dessert.

YORKSHIRE PUDDINGS

A reader asks if Yorkshire puddings are a dessert. No, they are a baked batter served with roast beef and are an English standby of many, many years.
To make them, sift together one cup flour, one-third teaspoon salt and add gradually one and one-half cups milk to make a smooth batter. Beat three eggs until thick and lemon colored. Add to batter, and turn into a very hot muffin pan which has been greased with beef drippings. When puddings are well risen in pan, baste with hot drippings. Bake about 20 minutes and when done, arrange on platter around roast.

FRESH CORN WAFFLES

Candied Sweet Potatoes.

Cut boiled sweet potatoes in lengthwise slices one-fourth inch thick. Put a layer of potatoes in a shallow well greased baking dish. Sprinkle generously with brown sugar, salt and dot with small bits of butter. Place in a very hot oven until the sugar is melted and the surface nicely browned.

Cook one-half to one cup diced gold cooked ham, one chopped medium green pepper, and one chopped medium onion in a frying pan until slightly brown. Add one can cooked spaghetti and cook slowly for about 20 minutes. Heap in the center of a hot platter and garnish with pickles.

Four one and one-half cups scalding milk over one cup soft bread crumbs. Add one-fourth cup melted butter, one chopped pimiento, one tablespoon onion, one and one-half cups grated American cheese, one tablespoon chopped parsley, three-eighths teaspoon salt and dash of paprika.

Then add three well beaten eggs. Put two cups cooked spaghetti in a greased casserole and pour milk and cheese mixture over it. Bake about 25 minutes in a moderate oven until firm.

Fruit Juice for Salads.

Summer fruit salads have a good flavor if the fruit is lightly mixed with a French dressing using lemon and orange juice instead of vinegar. Use equal parts of these juices and allow one tablespoonful to each tablespoonful of oil.

TOMATO TOAST

Cut two stemmed tomatoes in halves and dip in seasoned flour. Sauté in three tablespoons fat until tender, turning once. Arrange on buttered toast. Grape Jelly MADE IN ONLY 12 MINUTES!

10:00 PUT ON TO BOIL 10:12 IN THE GLASSES

BY Jane C. B. Osborne
CHAMPION IOWA JELLY MAKER

"In the last 5 years my jellies and jams have won 33 prizes at the Iowa State Fair. And the Certo short-boil jelly making method deserves most of the credit."

"Certo, first of all, reduces boiling time to one-half minute for grape jelly, for instance."

"So, with only ½ minute's hard boiling needed, 12 minutes is ample time to make a full batch of prize-winning jelly or jam. And since no fruit juice has time to boil away, I often save as much as 2½ per glass over jelly or jam made the old long-boil way."

"And my Certo-made jelly tastes better, too... because the short boil keeps the ripe, delicate flavor of the fruit itself from boiling away."

Why don't you order a supply of Certo today—with your grapes, the last big jelly-making crop of the season? Get it at a bargain price by using the valuable coupon below! Certo is a product of General Foods.

MEAT BRISKET TENDER IF CAREFULLY COOKED

Cheap Cuts of Beef and Lamb May be Tender and Palatable.

A criticism frequently made of American women is that they have not learned to buy cheaper cuts of meat and to take time to cook these so that they are acceptable to the family taste.

Women in foreign countries who watch every expenditure with an eye to savings have long been aware of the possibilities of briskets of beef and lamb, which are among the cheapest meat buys.

Here are two suggestions which may convince you that it is not necessary to always buy the more expensive cuts to insure meat satisfaction:

Beef Brisket. Four pounds beef brisket, four tablespoons olive oil, three bay leaves, one onion, one lemon, one tablespoon vinegar, half teaspoon each ground cloves, mace and allspice, three teaspoons salt, dash cayenne.

Mix spices, salt and cayenne thoroughly. Rub well into meat, which has been wiped with a damp cloth. Chop onions fine and cover meat with them. Then mix oil and vinegar with juice of lemon and pour over meat. Set it in the ice-box or let stand in a cool place over night. Then put it into a stew pan and be careful to retain all the juices and spices. Simmer adding bay leaves, chopped very fine. Then add a tablespoon of flour rubbed in a half teaspoon of butter, melted. Let this brown, then-half cover with boiling water. Cover closely and place in a moderate oven, and bake for two hours. Serve with gravy in which cooked.

Lamb En Blanquette. Three pounds brisket of lamb, one onion, two carrots, half dozen cloves, one leek, few pieces thyme, parsley and bay leaf, butter, two tablespoons flour, two egg yolks, one cup cooked mushrooms.

Cut lamb into two-inch squares. Put in a stew pot and cover with two quarts water, add salt and pepper, onions and carrots, chopped. Simmer until tender, then remove meat from stock. Melt butter, add flour, brown lightly and add two cups of the water in which the lamb was cooked. Stir well and cook until slightly thickened. Add mushrooms. Then put veal in gravy and simmer 15 minutes. Take from fire, place veal on serving dish, add two egg yolks and the juice of a lemon to the gravy and beat. Serve in separate dish.

NEVER TOO MANY COOKIES FOR THE SCHOOL LUNCH BOX

Vanilla Cookies. Two-thirds cup shortening, two-thirds cup sugar, two eggs, one and a half cups pastry flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla.

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add unbeaten eggs to sugar mixture, and beat well. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together and add to first mixture. Add vanilla. Beat entire mixture vigorously. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased pan. Bake in moderate oven for 10 minutes.

Peanut Cookies. One cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt, six tablespoons shortening, one-half cup sugar, one egg, well beaten, grated rind one lemon, one cup peanuts, coarsely chopped, one-quarter cup milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and mix together three times. Cream butter or other shortening thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together well. Add egg, lemon rind, and peanuts, and mix well. Add flour, alternately with milk. Beat after each addition until smooth. Drop by teaspoons on greased baking sheet and bake in hot oven 8 minutes, or until done.

Coffee Icing. One tablespoon butter, two and one-half cups confectioners' sugar, very strong black coffee. Cream the butter, beat in sugar gradually, then add coffee, a little at a time. Icing is right consistency to spread.

MEAT AND VEGETABLE SALAD

One and one-half cups diced cooked meat, one-half cupful kidney beans, one-half cupful cooked peas, one-half cupful chopped celery, one and one-half tablespoons chopped green pepper, one tablespoonful chopped onion, French dressing, one-half teaspoonful chili powder, one-fourth cupful mayonnaise, salt to season.

Mix the meat and vegetables in the French dressing for one-half hour. Drain and combine lightly with the mayonnaise, which has been mixed with the salt and spices. Serve in tomato cups on a bed of greens.

Fish Leftovers.

A delicious fish salad may be made from the fish left from yesterday's dinner. If there is not much fish left, a hard-cooked egg or two and some diced celery or cucumber will help to extend the fish and at the same time make it more appetizing.

"Do you mean that Old Dutch Cleanser lasts that long, and you do all your cleaning with it?"

"That's the surprising thing about Old Dutch—and the reason why my cleaning costs less. I've found that there is no substitute for quality and economy."

It's only natural that more and more women are using Old Dutch Cleanser. They find that it actually costs less to use Old Dutch because it goes so much further.

Another important saving is this: Old Dutch does so many cleaning tasks perfectly that it eliminates the need for a variety of powders and cleaners.

Old Dutch keeps lovely things lovely because it doesn't scratch. It is ideal for all your cleaning; bathroom fixtures, wood and linoleum floors, kitchen utensils and refrigerators, china and glass, etc. It is always kind to the hands; doesn't clog drains; is odorless and removes odors. The only cleanser you need in your home.

COCONUT LAYER CAKE
HAS ITS DEFENDERS

Chocolate Cake Supremacy Challenged by Reader Who Prefers White Rival.

A recent article in our food section on the wide-spread popularity of chocolate cake brought a protest from someone who likes coconut cake better and bemoans the comparative lack of good recipes for same.

The following is a tried and true layer cake recipe and the coconut frosting is equally satisfactory.

Layer Cake.
Cream one-half cup shortening and one cup sugar together until thoroughly blended and very creamy. Add three well-beaten egg yolks and beat for one minute. Mix two and one-fourth cups sifted cake flour with one-half teaspoon salt and two and one-half teaspoons baking powder, sift and stir one-fourth cup into the egg yolk mixture. Add two-thirds cup milk and the rest of flour alternately. When well mixed fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and one-half teaspoon lemon extract. Bake in two large, greased layer cake pans in a moderate oven for 20 minutes. Cool and spread coconut frosting between and on top.

Coconut Frosting.
Put whites of two eggs, unbeaten, one and one-half cups sugar and one-third cup cold water in the upper part of a double boiler. Stir in one and one-half teaspoons white corn syrup and beat with an egg beater until mixed. Place the upper pan in the lower and cook over boiling water for seven minutes, beating the mixture constantly with an egg beater. The frosting should be stiff enough to stand in peaks when the beater is lifted up. If not, cook a minute or so longer. Remove from fire, stand pan in a pan of cold water and continue beating until thick enough to spread without running. Spread between and on top of cake layers and sprinkle a thick coating of shredded coconut or fresh grated coconut over the frosting between the layers, on top and sides.

APPLE ROLL.
Peel, core and chop fine sufficient to make a pint. Make a rich dough of one quart flour, sifted with one-fourth teaspoon salt, three teaspoons baking powder, rub in two tablespoons butter or substitute, and add sufficient milk to make a dough that can be rolled. Roll into an oblong, spread with the chopped apples, sprinkle with sugar and a little cinnamon or nutmeg.

Roll up and pinch the ends together after wetting with cold water. Put in a buttered baking dish, put in with it a cup of hot water, a cup of sugar and two tablespoons butter. Bake until well browned, basting with the pan syrup.

CREOLE SAUCE

One and one-half cups tomatoes, one green pepper, thinly sliced, two medium-sized onions, sliced, one-half cup sliced mushrooms, one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour, one-half cup thickened creamed chicken soup, one tablespoon of minced ham.

Cook tomatoes, green pepper, onions and mushrooms together for 10 minutes. Add soup and ham and cook two minutes longer. Thicken with flour which has been creamed with butter.

RAISIN FILLING FOR COOKIES

Two cups raisins, chopped, two-thirds cup sugar, two-thirds cup boiling water, one tablespoon lemon juice, one tablespoon butter.

Cook raisins, sugar, and water 5 to 8 minutes, or until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from fire; add lemon and butter. Place one teaspoon of filling on a round of cookie dough, cover with another round and press edges together. Bake in hot oven.

CINNAMON COFFEE CAKE.

Two cups sifted flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt, six tablespoons sugar, two eggs, well beaten, five tablespoons soft shortening, two-thirds cup milk, one and a half tablespoons butter, melted, three tablespoons fine cracker crumbs, three tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon cinnamon.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Add sugar gradually to eggs, then add shortening. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Spread top with melted butter. Sprinkle with mixture of crumbs, sugar, and cinnamon. Bake in greased pan, in hot oven 45 minutes.

Oysters Easily Dressed.

Oysters are easily dressed, especially in the raw state. Because of their mineral content they are valuable as food; in caloric value they rank low as the water content is so large. However, the percentage of iodine puts them, as well as other shell fish, in a unique place in the food list for few other foods can be counted as a source of this mineral.

Peach Fudding.

Butter a deep casserole and fill it with sliced peaches. Sprinkle with sugar and a little cinnamon and dot with butter. Cover with rich biscuit dough about one-half inch thick and bake in a hot oven for about 20 minutes until brown. Invert on a hot plate, add cream and serve.

But, Oh What Joy For Others
Who Don't Watch
Weights!

Happy the pie lover who is not worried about weight, for here are two unusually good recipes. But, remember, we warn you that the scales will show the effect next day!

Peach Cream Pie.

Bake a pie shell that is two inches deep. Cool and fill two-thirds full with sliced sugared peaches. Cover the peaches at once with a cold cooked custard and spread a layer of whipped sweetened cream over the top. Chill before serving.

Custard for pie: Scald two cups milk. Beat three eggs and add one-half cup sugar, three tablespoons cornstarch and one-quarter teaspoon salt. Stir the hot milk gradually into the egg mixture, then return to the saucepan and stir constantly until thickened and boiling. Cool slightly, add one-quarter teaspoon almond extract, and when cold pour over the peaches.

Banana Cream Pie.
Five tablespoons cake flour, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half cup cold milk, three egg yolks, slightly beaten, 1 baked nine-inch pie shell. Four tablespoons sugar, one and one-half cups milk, scalded, two teaspoons vanilla, three bananas, one-half cup cream, whipped.

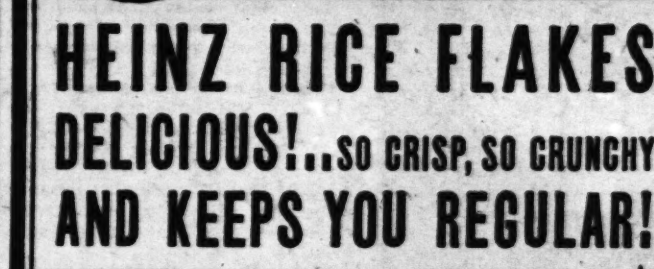

Combine flour, sugar and salt. Add cold milk and mix well. Add scalded milk gradually, place in double boiler, and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Pour small amount of mixture over egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook three to four minutes longer. Cool. Add vanilla. Chill. Add slices of one banana. Slice second banana and arrange in pie shell. Pour in chilled filling; slice remaining banana over top and spread with whipped cream. Serve at once.

RAISINS MAKE GINGERBREAD

EVEN BETTER THAN USUAL

Cream together one-fourth cup sugar and two tablespoons shortening. When well blended add one egg and beat until smooth. Then stir in one-half cup dark molasses, one-half cup sour milk (thick) mixed with one-half teaspoon baking soda, one and one-fourth cups flour mixed and sifted with one teaspoon cinnamon, one and one-half teaspoons ginger, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one teaspoon baking powder.

Last of all stir in one cup seedless raisins and pour into a greased shallow pan. Bake in a moderate oven for 25 to 30 minutes. Let cool in the pan, cut in squares and serve warm or cold.

SUGAR

When you're putting up your family's favorites this year, don't forget how important it is to use only the finest pure cane sugar. No woman, of course, would deliberately risk success in home-preserving with sugar of inferior quality... but there's always the chance that unknown quality may be inferior. That's why it's wise to insist on sugar in the white cloth bag labeled C and H MENU. Then you know, absolutely, that your jams and jellies are being made with highest quality pure cane sugar, refined to the most rigid standards of cleanliness and uniformity.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

VEAL STUFFED WITH MUSH-ROOMS

Two pounds veal cutlet one-half inch thick, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one cup mushroom tops, two tablespoons butter, one cup dry bread crumbs, two teaspoons chopped parsley, one tablespoon grated onion, one-half teaspoon poultry seasoning.

Rub with salt and pepper and roll up over dressing made as follows: Melt butter, add thinly sliced mushrooms, cook eight minutes. Remove from fire, stir in bread crumbs and seasonings, roll up and secure with toothpicks or string.

Sprinkle with salt and spread lightly with butter. Bake in very hot oven 10 minutes; then reduce to moderate heat and continue baking until tender. Baste occasionally during cooking with hot water.

String Bean Salad.

Marinate cooked string beans in French dressing, add a few sliced onions and serve on lettuce leaves.

VEGETABLE DINNER IS WELCOME NOW AND THEN

Mixed vegetables seasoned with curry sauce and served with brown mounds of boiled rice make an attractive meal. Turnips, carrots, sliced celery, whole kernel corn, lima beans, peas or any other combination of vegetables may be used.

Cook until tender in water, then mix with curry sauce and allow to stand in lemon juice—allow sauce to three cups of vegetables.

Serve plain lettuce dressing and a custard. This adds you will have a meal, indeed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Stocks closed irregular today after a session. Afternoon gains of 1 to 2 points in railroad group were reduced, while industrials finished with moderate losses.

Volume approximated 2,000,000 shares.

The market was unusually thin, trading being in the smallest volume for about a month.

While some stocks showed fairly vigorous activity at one time, heavy losses in U. S. Steel and American

Telephone dampened bullish enthusiasm.

Despite this handicap, however,

Lackawanna closed up 1/4 point and Northern Pacific was up over a point. Union Pacific and South western Pacific were little changed. Earlier in the day, U. S.

Steel, Westinghouse Electric, American

Tobacco B. North American and American Smelting were down 1 to 2 points. U. S. Steel lost 1 1/2 points, while American Telephone lost 1 point.

Wheat and corn were steady,

cotton broke 1/2 to 1 point net.

Wheat closed about 1/2

point higher, while cotton was down 1/2 to 1 point.

Foreign exchanges were steady.

The British pound sterling lost 1/4 to 1/2 cent for futures.

Belgian franc was down

1/4 to 1/2 cent for futures.

French franc was down

1/4 to 1/2 cent for futures.

Practical changes occurred in most currencies.

The metal markets were quiet.

News of Day.

Chicago and Northwestern in the first 14 days of September

lost 42,000 cars against 52,000 for the same period in 1932.

St. Paul's figures were 44,

218 against 57,440.

An overnight announcement was that of a gain of 42,000,000 in broker's loans, the largest in more than a year.

There was a decline of $57,000,

000 in currency in circulation,

a gain of $23,000,000 in government securities, and a gain of $23,000,000 in bank deposits.

Exports were $1,000,000

over July's low, totaling $10,000,

000, while imports expanded $12,

GERMANY SERVES NOTICE IT WON'T JOIN IN THE NEXT MEETING ON ARMS

Foreign Minister Repeats Demand for Equality of Military Forces in Message to Chairman Arthur Henderson.

NEW CONSTRUCTION IN NAVY IS ORDERED

Keel to Be Laid Oct. 1 for Third 'Pocket Battleship,' Which Was Budgeted During the Term of Chancellor Bruening.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Sept. 16.—Germany has informed the chairman of the disarmament conference that it will not participate in the next meeting, Sept. 21, the Government announced this evening.

Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath, in his note sent yesterday to Arthur Henderson, chairman of the conference, repeated the German view that all the nations must be subject to equal rules of disarmament and that no discrimination may be shown.

The text, published here tonight, disclosed that the note was a repetition of the views expressed on several occasions by high German officials to the effect that Germany is willing to disarm to any level on condition that all other nations reduce their armaments to the same point.

It was unofficially announced this evening that the German Government did not intend to reply in substance to the recent French note which was an answer to Germany's demand for equality in arms.

Regret was expressed that the note from Paris indicated that there was a misconception in France regarding the German position. Under the circumstances, it was said, the Government thinks further exchange of notes would be useless, but is willing to continue formal diplomatic discussions.

The Admiralty today ordered the keel to be laid Oct. 1 for Germany's third "pocket battleship," to be built for the present as "armored cruisers."

The new battleship was budgeted during the term of former Chancellor Heinrich Brüning as part of the Government's program for rearmament.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung today, referring to the order, said that "since Geneva produced no practical results, the Government ordered the work to begin."

The new battleship, the third of a series which actually are 10,000-ton cruisers, will be similar to its predecessors. These cost approximately $17,850,000 each. They are powered with a cruising speed of 19,000 miles. The engines weigh less than one-sixth of the weight of the old-style Diesels, yet have more power and speed. The ships save 550 tons in weight by welding the armor plates. The hull is of armor plate and there is a mine hull used both as armor and as a support for the structure. It is understood the ships have mine defense and defense systems. Other features, the editors say, bring the vessel to the category of a battleship twice the size.

Several important diplomatic matters were ordered by the Cabinet today.

Newspaper Mitteilungsblatt said the Ambassador at Washington, Friedrich Wilhelm von Pitt-Rivers and Gaffron, would also be recalled, but not before the present session.

ST. LOUIS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1932. PAGES 1-4E

Three Cities Consider Dropping Union Electric Co. Service and Building Plants of Their Own

Opposition in St. Charles, Pacific and Washington, to Renewing Franchise on Promise of Lower Rates.

Three Missouri municipalities served with electricity by the Union Electric Light & Power Co., in the area where the great Bagnell water power plant was expected to provide low-cost current, are so in arms against the company's rates and are seriously considering installing city-owned plants.

They are St. Charles, Washington and Pacific.

The St. Charles City Council already has approved an engineer's report recommending construction of a municipal electric plant. Washington and Pacific have obtained reports from engineering firms advising the construction of municipal plants. In all of the three cities early action is expected toward submitting the proposals to a vote.

The expiration within the next few months of the long-term franchises under which Union Electric operates gives incentive to citizens in all of the three cities to work for public ownership of power plants. All of them now own their waterworks.

Seeks to Renew Franchises.

Union Electric is actively seeking renewal of its franchises for 20 years and has promised the three cities a substantial reduction in rates contingent on the granting of the new franchises.

Public spirited citizens are to be found in all of the three cities who are asking why, if Union Electric can afford to make the proposed reductions, it has not done so with regard to the franchise situation, and, further, what assurance the cities would have that the rates would not soon be raised to the old levels. They point out that the public utilities are not bound by voluntary rate schedules, even if written into a franchise contract, but if earnings are unsatisfactory to them may go to the Public Service Commission or the courts and obtain higher rates.

St. Charles Plans Election.

The St. Charles City Council has authorized the city attorney to draft an ordinance for an election on a proposal to issue $100,000 of municipal bonds to build an electric plant. Mayor Wayne S. O'Neal said today he expected the council will be ready to act on the ordinance at its first meeting in October.

Meanwhile representatives of Union Electric have obtained more than 1600 signatures to a petition for an election on a new franchise. Mayor O'Neal is a strong advocate of the municipal plant, said this petition was so cleverly worded that he thought a majority of those signing it were not aware of its import. The City Council may use its discretion as to calling an election.

The engineers estimated that, at the rates now in effect, St. Charles could pay for its municipal plant in five years, even if thereafter it were to operate at a loss. The city would be able to devote profits either to reduction of rates or to reduction or elimination of city taxes. Several municipalities have followed the latter course.

Campaigning at Washington.

At Washington, a city having a number of large industries, the agitation for a municipal plant is said to be going strong. The Union Electric franchise expires in November, and the company is actively campaigning for a new franchise.

Consulting engineers employed by the city recommended the construction of a plant and distribution system that would be paid for by an issue of $400,000 of public utility bonds which would not be subject to the obligation of the city. The engineers estimated that at the end of eight years the debt would be fully paid out of earnings and the light plant would have accumulated a surplus of $164,847, in addition to saving the consumers $179,000 in lower rates. Annual profits of the plant were estimated at $71,860.

Contrasted Rates.

The first step in the present Union Electric schedule is 10 cents a kilowatt hour and the next step is 9 cents. These two steps include the first nine kilowatt hours for each counted room and probably cover the greater part of the consumption of small home owners. After getting out of the first two steps the rate is 3 cents.

The city rates proposed, under which it was estimated the plant would be paid for in three years and a large surplus accumulated, are 6 1/2 cents a kilowatt hour for the first 15, 5 cents each for the next 20 and 3 cents each for all in excess of 35. The company's proposed reduction is to 9 cents a kilowatt hour for the first nine kilowatt hours and 3 cents each for the excess. The saving was estimated by the company at $7500 a year.

One factor in the controversy is the large sum the municipalities now pay to the light company for street lights and for current for other public uses. St. Charles pays about $11,500 a year for power to operate the waterworks and about $8500 for the lighting of streets and public buildings, a total of $20,000 a year. In Washington the cost for electricity for public uses is about $12,000 a year. Advocates of municipal plants think the cities would make large savings on these items.

Company's Argument Answered.

Reference was made in Washington to so-called tax-free cities, particularly Chautau, Kan. Chautau is one of more than 50 cities in the United States which does not levy a city tax, obtaining revenue for municipal purposes from the profits of city-owned utilities. In an advertisement, Union Electric republished a newspaper editorial saying the tax-free cities were "kidding" themselves—that the people paid the bill in higher rates. George H. Otto, a Washington merchant and large taxpayer, obtained the Chautau rates and showed that in Washington the consumer pays $2.27 for what costs $3 in Chautau, and that for commercial power the Chautau rates are much lower.

The possibility of a municipal plant in Washington have been set forth in a pamphlet published by a committee composed of Mayor F. J. Huether, J. H. Dickbrader, Russell J. Tibbe, O. F. Schulte, F. Ruether, Louis Bleckman and Hugo Schaeffer.

"Dream House" May Come True.

At Pacific a Municipal Light Plant Committee published a pointed reply to the arguments of Union Electric against a city plant along with which the company offered lower rates if a new franchise were granted.

The committee said: "Why did Union Electric wait until Pacific started a movement for a municipal plant before offering a reduced rate? If they can offer a reduced rate to hold Pacific's business does it not look as though they have been making an excessive profit with their present rate? ... Why do they offer to reduce rates only if we give them a new permit (franchise)? The offer of a rate as cheap as we can produce the current in a home plant would be an effort to make some money. The day of cities' giving private utilities a long franchise is past."

Union Electric called the proposed plan a "dream house," which the committee replied: "This beautiful dream house must be beautiful, indeed, to the Union Electric; so beautiful that they will go to great expense to retain it. The people of Pacific are intelligent enough to realize that the harder Union Electric fights to keep the business they have in Pacific, the more reason we have to own and control the business ourselves. The money spent for a municipal plant stays at home, gives employment to our people and we will not be paying out 60 cents out of every tax dollar for disbursements and a few hours of water pumping as we now do."

A mass meeting will be held at Washington next Thursday night to discuss the proposal to erect a municipal plant. The principal speaker will be Daniel C. Rogers of Fayette, Mo., an ardent opponent of franchises.

The three cities have a combined population of nearly 20,000 and contain many important industries which use electric power. The loss of this business would be a serious item to the Union Electric. Out of a year ago completed its $30,000,000 hydro-electric plant on the Osage River at Bagnell.

STOCK EXCHANGE LOOKS INTO BREAK AFTER MAINE ELECTION

Orders Members to Submit Telegrams "Of Political Nature"

Sent or Received by Them.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The New York Stock Exchange today ordered its members to furnish the exchange's committee on business conduct with "all telegraphic communications dealing in any way with topics of a political nature, sent or received by them between Sept. 12 and Sept. 15, 1932, inclusive."

This period covers the date of the Maine elections and the three days following. During this period, there was a sharp break in prices of stocks.

The order specified that all messages sent during the period be turned over today by members having offices in New York. Out-of-town members have until next Monday to furnish their files.

Japanese Seek Krueger Plants.

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, Sept. 16.—Japanese capitalists have sent representatives here to negotiate with the new Manchukuo Government and the Swedish Match Co. for the purchase of match factories at Kirin, Changchun, and Tieling, formerly controlled by Krueger, the late Swedish match king. These Japanese financial interests seek to merge the Krueger, Manchurian match factories with match factories in Japan.

HOOPER CALLS ON BANKS TO ASSIST STOCK SHIPPERS

Requests Groups in Six Reserve Districts to Obtain Credit for Industry During Next Few Weeks.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Organized banking groups in six Federal Reserve Districts have been asked by President Hoover to aid in supplying credit needs of livestock owners and shippers.

Through the Central Executive Committee of the 12 recently organized banking and industrial committees, Mr. Hoover urged financial aid for livestock areas during the feeder season and pending first operations of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's agricultural credit agencies.

His telegram to this committee yesterday was transmitted by its executive secretary, Everett Case, to chairmen of the banking groups in Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Dallas and San Francisco. It read:

"As you are aware, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is earnestly engaged in the erection of a series of credit institutions for the purpose of serving livestock and feeder loans and for other agricultural purposes."

"The Corporation has found many difficulties in securing personnel and in overcoming legal questions which arise under the Federal Reserve banking and industrial committees in the areas of the country where this credit is required—that they should secure maximum activity of all the banks in the country, and the mandate at least pending completion of the Reconstruction Corporation's organizations. I know of nothing that would more quickly promote agricultural interests than a regular flow of livestock into feed lots."

Case told the chairman that Wilson McCarthy, director in the Reconstruction Corporation, said the credit agencies on completion would be prepared "to take over sound loans from the banks."

SIR RONALD ROSS, AUTHORITY ON TROPICAL DISEASES, DIES

Discovered the Mosquito That Carries Malaria Parasite; Received Nobel Prize.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Sept. 16.—Sir Ronald Ross, noted authority on tropical diseases, died today. He was 75. He demonstrated in 1897 that the anopheles mosquito carries the malaria parasite, a discovery which earned him the Nobel Prize.

He entered the Indian medical service in 1881, and began his malaria research in 1892. Some years later he joined the faculty of the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine and became professor of tropical medicine there.

He undertook the experimental verification of the mosquito theory of malaria in 1895 and discovered the life history of malaria parasites in mosquitoes in 1897-98. He was active in expeditions in the fight on malaria and laid down directions for large scale malaria reduction.

He was a writer of note and the recipient of many honors. In 1902 he received the Nobel prize in medicine.

He died at the Ross Institute and Hospital for Tropical Diseases, where he was director-in-chief. He had been critically ill for many weeks and for the past five years was partially paralyzed. At one time he was in straightened circumstances for several years and a public subscription was raised to provide for his old age. His wife died last year.

HERIOT REPORTED TO HAVE WRITTEN BORAH ON DEBTS

French Premier's Office Refuses to Comment on Rumor in Paris.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Sept. 16.—It was reliably reported in the Chamber of Deputies today that Premier Herriot had sent a letter to United States Senator Borah last week on the subject of war debts and disarmament.

Officials at the Foreign Office said they had no knowledge of the report and comment was refused at the Premier's office.

The report was that the Premier wrote the letter at the suggestion of members of the Chamber of Deputies, who said they had reason to think that Borah had changed his attitude toward war debts and the French position on security.

REBELLION IN BRAZIL STOPS SAO PAULO'S COFFEE TRADE

Problem of Surplus Intensified by Blockade; Financial Situation Serious.

By the Associated Press. RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 15.—Brazil's prolonged civil war has been accompanied by wider economic ramifications than would be likely in any international conflict in South America, excluding Argentina.

Sao Paulo's 7,000,000 persons—more than the population of Chile or Peru—in revolt furnished the provisional Government a serious financial problem. With more than 100,000 men under arms on both sides, war expenditures have been running into millions.

With little gold in the country, Brazil's prolonged civil war has been accompanied by wider economic ramifications than would be likely in any international conflict in South America, excluding Argentina.

Sao Paulo's 7,000,000 persons—more than the population of Chile or Peru—in revolt furnished the provisional Government a serious financial problem. With more than 100,000 men under arms on both sides, war expenditures have been running into millions.

Each week of the revolution and Santos blockade meant that 20,000 sacks of Sao Paulo's coffee normally exported remained at home. This intensified the problem of the Paulista surplus, principal barrier in the way of eliminating a huge carry-over.

U. S. BANK IS ABSOLVED BY JAPANESE GOVERNMENT

Foreign Office Not Suspicious of Photographs, Ambassador Grew Informs Washington.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The State Department announced today receipt of a message from Ambassador Grew at Tokyo stating the Japanese Government advised him it attached no blame whatever to the action of the National City Bank in photographing commercial centers in Japan.

Grew's message said Foreign Office officials stated that the Japanese Government did not regard the action of the National City Bank with suspicion and authorized him to communicate this fact officially to the State Department.

On Sept. 10, Ambassador Grew made representations to the Japanese Government concerning a press campaign charging the Osaka Bank of Japan with espionage. The bank had collected photographs of commercial buildings to be used for advertising purposes.

Grew asked Count Uchida, the Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs, to make a full investigation and issue a statement absolving the bank from all blame. He also asked steps be taken to stop the press campaign against the bank.

MELLON CONCERN TRADES ALUMINUM TO SOVIET FOR OIL

Deal by Canadian Company Reported to Be First in Series of Barter Transactions.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The New York Times says the Aluminum Co. of Canada, Ltd., a Mellon-controlled concern, has contracted with the Soviet Government to exchange aluminum wire for crude oil, and that the first shipments are on the way to Montreal. The story says the transaction is the first of a series by which Russia will buy goods from American industries through the barter system.

The Aluminum Co., the paper continues, has arranged with the La Salle Oil Co. to refine the oil from this scheme with the pre-dispatch through Canada, probably disregarding the United States because of the tariff.

Russia will utilize the aluminum wire in its vast electrification program, it is said, and is negotiating for the barter of oil, coal and other raw materials in exchange for items essential to the success of its industrial development.

The Times regards the deal as significant in that it purports to show that the Mellon interests are turning to the Soviet Union as an outlet for their goods.

The decline in the price of raw materials has sharply curtailed the purchasing power of Russia in foreign markets and it is supposed the Soviet Government has decided on the principle of barter to obtain supplies from abroad. Competition of the oil products derived from this scheme with the pre-distributed by companies owned by both American and Canadian interests was expected to have a disturbing influence on the Canadian oil market.

Increase in Bank Savings.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Henry R. Kinsey, president of the Savings Bank Association of New York, said today that there had been a $67,624,382 increase last year in the savings in deposits in mutual savings banks in New York State. August withdrawals were the smallest in five months, he said.

A Feeble Effort.

THE Democratic State platform, in my opinion, is about the most feeble effort presented in recent years. Evidently Boss Pendergast is satisfied that his steam roller is so well greased and is functioning so smoothly that the Republican lines will be completely flattened in November without the aid of a platform of principles.

It is to be hoped that the candidates on the Democratic ticket are not as barren of ideas as the platform would indicate. It usually is expected of a party trying to "get in" that it would present some really constructive suggestions which would lead voters to believe that a sincere effort would be made to change the order of things, and the attitude of the Democrats of this State in offering such a state piece of reading matter to the voters can only be interpreted in one way, in my opinion; and that is, if victorious in November, the same old familiar game of politics will be played to the victor belong the spoils.

If there ever was a time when our two major political parties required a thorough purifying house-cleaning, it is now, and the person who can suggest a practical method for accomplishing it should be awarded a niche in the hall of fame.

OSWALD.

Speaking of Edmund Burke—

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

IN keeping with the regularity with which Edmund Burke has recently broken into print, perhaps a story concerning the peerless orator will be apt. Dr. Samuel Johnson, the literary "king" of the eighteenth century, was sick and it was thought that a visit from his good friend Edmund Burke might cheer him up. But when the suggestion was made, Johnson said: "No, that fellow takes my intellectual powers to the full extent. If I had to talk to him now, sick as I am, it would kill me."

Political Opinion from Southern Illinois.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WHILE the free publicity you are giving our friend, Len Small, no wonder Bruce Campbell is protesting and feels uneasy at the huge crowds gathering to see and hear him on this trip. We are planning on a rousing welcome. We are for deep waterways, as was our late friend, Theodore. But more than that, we are for Len Small. Our friends can do no wrong.

We are elated just now and are having a series of jubilees over the appropriation for our levees, made us by the State and Federal governments. Thanks to the good work and untiring efforts of our notable citizen, Col. Townsend, and the committee. It was aided by a former citizen, Al Milligan, of Springfield. Claude Parosch helped greatly, too. If he wasn't a dry, I would vote for him, but he has such a worthy opponent, Senator Mills of Rosiclare, that I will wait to stretch my legs in the coming election. Our friend, Joe Bartley, running for Senator, helped put over our big levee appropriation and deserves and will get the support of his district. Hokey for Len Small.

Police Legislation in the Constitution.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

IN a recent issue, you denounced the eighteenth amendment as police legislation in the Federal Constitution.

In reviewing that document, one cannot find anything which forbids vote legislation. Indeed, on the contrary, there are several sections which constitute police legislation.

Article III, Section 3, says: "Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court."

Article IV, Section 2, reads: "A person charged in any state with treason, felony or other crime, who shall flee from justice, and be found in another state, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the state from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime."

Amendment XIII says: "Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or in any place subject to their jurisdiction."

This is the question at issue: "Is police legislation permitted in the Constitution?" The yes have it.

CHARLES M. BURTON.

Shall We Retain Any Federal Prohibition?

Shall we abandon all we have gained in accumulated strength of public opinion against legislation in the Constitution and Federal prohibition, which has promoted so much lawlessness, contempt for law and crime?

Shall we abandon the long and slowly winning fight against the usurpation by the Federal Government, and the overthrow of state rights and individual rights and liberties, contrary to the whole spirit and letter of the original Constitution?

This is the fundamental issue on the liquor question between the Democratic platform, which calls for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the complete restoration of the liquor question to the states, and the Republican platform, which pledges the retention in the Constitution of prohibition against the saloon.

What does Mr. Hoover's declaration that he wants an "absolute guarantee in the Constitution" against the return of the saloon, and the protection of the dry states, which is an accurate summary of the Republican platform, mean?

Of course, the protection of dry states was embodied in congressional legislation before Federal prohibition, and the Democratic platform pledges it. Mr. Hoover and his party, however, want a substitute amendment for the eighteenth amendment in the Constitution. He is not in favor of returning the whole liquor question to the states, but he wants legislation with regard to the saloon and the protection of dry states retained in the Constitution. In short, he wants limited Federal prohibition.

The Federal Government, under the constitutional guarantee he wants, would still control, so far as the method of selling liquor is concerned, the action of the states. The Constitution would be still littered with prohibitive legislation. The Federal Government would be empowered to interfere with the legislation of the states.

The result would be that the states would still be controlled by the Federal Constitution in the matter of legislation touching the regulation of liquor. The protection of the dry states from shipments of liquor, instead of being regulated by congressional enactment, would be enforced by a constitutional provision. The Federal Government would not only be empowered to interfere, but would feel bound to take action in the event that any legislation put strictly in accord with the Federal Constitution should be adopted by any state. If anything in the nature of a saloon should be operated in any state, whether it was or was not, it would be in violation of the Federal Constitution, and the Federal Government would be bound to interfere and attempt to close it.

What would that mean? It would mean the retention by the Federal Government of the machinery of enforcement, which has proved such a dire failure, such a promoter of corruption and crime. The Federal Government would still feel bound to have an enforcement unit and to appropriate money for it. It would still feel bound to prevent any state legislative enactment touching the liquor question not in accord with the Federal Constitution, and to raid any place operated in opposition to what the Federal Prohibition Bureau decided was permitted by Federal law. We would have a continuation of the mess of futile Federal interference and the exercise of police power within the states, in which we are now floundering.

The most important thing, however, is that we would not get rid of Federal prohibition. We would not get rid of the usurpation of the police power of the states by the Federal Government. We would continue to ignore and violate the fundamental principle in the Constitution and the order of government established by the fathers, in which there was a strict division of powers between the Federal Government and the states. The limitation of Federal power, and the exercise of all the powers beyond that limit by the states, would be violated and ignored.

Instead of settling the contest between those who oppose prohibition on principle as a violation of constitutional rights and liberties and those who favor it, the Republican party's platform would keep the question open; it would perpetuate the evils of any sort of Federal enforcement, police law and regulation, within the states.

Instead of stopping the fight against Federal prohibition on account of the principle of state rights, and its devastating results, it would assure its continuance. We would have to fight the whole battle against Federal prohibition over again. The question of Federal prohibition would be as alive as ever, and the question of the repeal of all amendments to the Constitution relating to liquor would remain an acute issue, a herring across the trail of all other issues, and would have to be fought to a finish.

We believe that the great majority of the American people, after the disastrous experiment we have gone through, want the issue settled now and forever. We believe public opinion is overwhelmingly in favor of repeal.

The Legion Succumbs

As was to be expected, the American Legion has brushed aside Mr. Hoover's plea and voted for immediate payment of the bonus, thus keeping that vexing question before the country. But it is not alone Mr. Hoover's plea that was brushed aside. The Legion also ignored the condition of the country, with 12,000,000 unemployed, most of whom would gain nothing from bonus payment, the crushingly heavy tax burden, and the dictates of common sense, good judgment and sound policy.

The bonus is not due, and the Legion knows it. The Government's generosity to veterans has proceeded to a prodigious point, and the Legion knows it. The country cannot afford to pay the bonus now, even if it would, and the Legion knows that, too. Still, it asks for this gratuity. It is necessary to go into Legion politics to understand this attitude, for only that serves to explain it. Over a year ago, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a rival organization, saw the chances to make capital and members for itself by espousing the bonus. It did so in its 1931 convention and laid the groundwork for the succeeding agitation, including the tragedy of the bonus army at Washington.

The Socialist Campaign

Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate for the presidency, contemplates the plight of the United States and asserts that there is no hope outside of Socialism.

We fully agree with Mr. Thomas that the excesses of capitalism have shaken that institution; but we do not agree that the voters of the United States have at this time any serious intention of resorting to Socialism as the way out.

This is not the first great depression the United States has experienced, and we very much doubt if it is the last. We would like to believe it is the last. We would like to believe that the country is prepared to make the adjustments necessary to living in peace with a highly mechanized civilization. There are indications that we are moving in this direction, but we are doing it very slowly.

There is no such socialist state anywhere as Mr. Thomas would have our own become, and we question if any such ideal is practicable. A modified Socialism is inevitable in every modern civilization. Public ownership of the utilities, to which the people look for the necessities of modern existence, has been a commonplace in Europe for a generation. It is resisted here because it is one of the most fruitful fields of that exploitation of which Mr. Thomas complains; but it nevertheless steadily gains ground. He quotes Stephen Raushenbush as saying that within the next 30 years the people of the United States will pay some 30 billions of dollars for the financial abuses imposed upon them by the electrical industry. We are quite aware of these excesses, but we do not believe that they can go on forever. The people will be compelled in their own defense to stop them, and in time public ownership of the utilities will be immensely more widespread than it is today.

That is as far as we go with Mr. Thomas. He assumes that Socialism could solve all economic ills.

Mr. Kiel's Plight

Perhaps there never was a more melancholy candidate in politics than Henry Kiel, Republican candidate for United States Senator, who finds himself roped, tied and handcuffed to a policy which he does not respect and in which he does not believe. We refer to prohibition. Before his party's platform was adopted in Jefferson City, Mr. Kiel made so bold as to say he was wetter than his party and would not be bound by the national platform.

That was fine. It was heroic. It was also cannily political. Mr. Kiel knows St. Louis. He knows particularly the great German population of the South Side, which, though Republican, has repeatedly refused to vote for dry or near-dry Republican candidates. He knows the Republicans have not a Chinaman's chance to carry St. Louis if it is suspected that Always priding itself on being the largest and most representative veterans' organization, the Legion has witnessed in the past year a falling off of membership and a growing spirit of dissatisfaction because of the more advanced position taken by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Last year at Detroit, the Legion leaders were able to stem the revolt. The more far-sighted among them knew the Legion should never lend itself to so unreasonable a thing as immediate bonus payment, particularly since the hardships in this country are not confined to veterans, and favors to one group would be highly discriminatory.

But the growth of the agitation, and the administration's use of the army in expelling bonus marchers from Washington, has weakened the influence of the cooler Legion heads. To overcome the temporary advantage gained by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Legion has decided to scrap principle and join in the bonus scramble. In our opinion, this action has cut heavily into Legion prestige. It had stood pat, in this hysterical time, and permitted its rival to pursue its radical course alone, time would have vindicated the Legion handsomely.

of this great nation. There is no justification in history for believing anything of the kind. Socialism is an intellectual achievement; it is an ideal of what might be if men were not what they are. It is a necessary faith upon the part of humankind; not because we believe it can ever be a fait accompli, but because it operates as a spur. We ought not to rob one another. We ought not to cheat and swindle; but just because there are those who do not play the game fairly is no reason why we should abandon the effort to make them do so.

We have a democracy, which Socialism proposes to destroy. For the free spirit of a nation which has grown to greatness under democracy, Socialism proposes to substitute a dictatorship by boards and bureaus, an idea as distasteful to democracy as were the monarchs of old. The whole habit of thought in America is opposed to putting the people in leading strings. We have just had an illustration in prohibition of what that sort of thing comes to. It, too, was an ideal, a counsel of perfection, a so-called noble experiment which proposed to make all the people as like as peas in a pod. It cannot be done. The Russians think they can do something of the sort, but we must recall that they are dealing with Slavs. The Anglo-Saxon is something else.

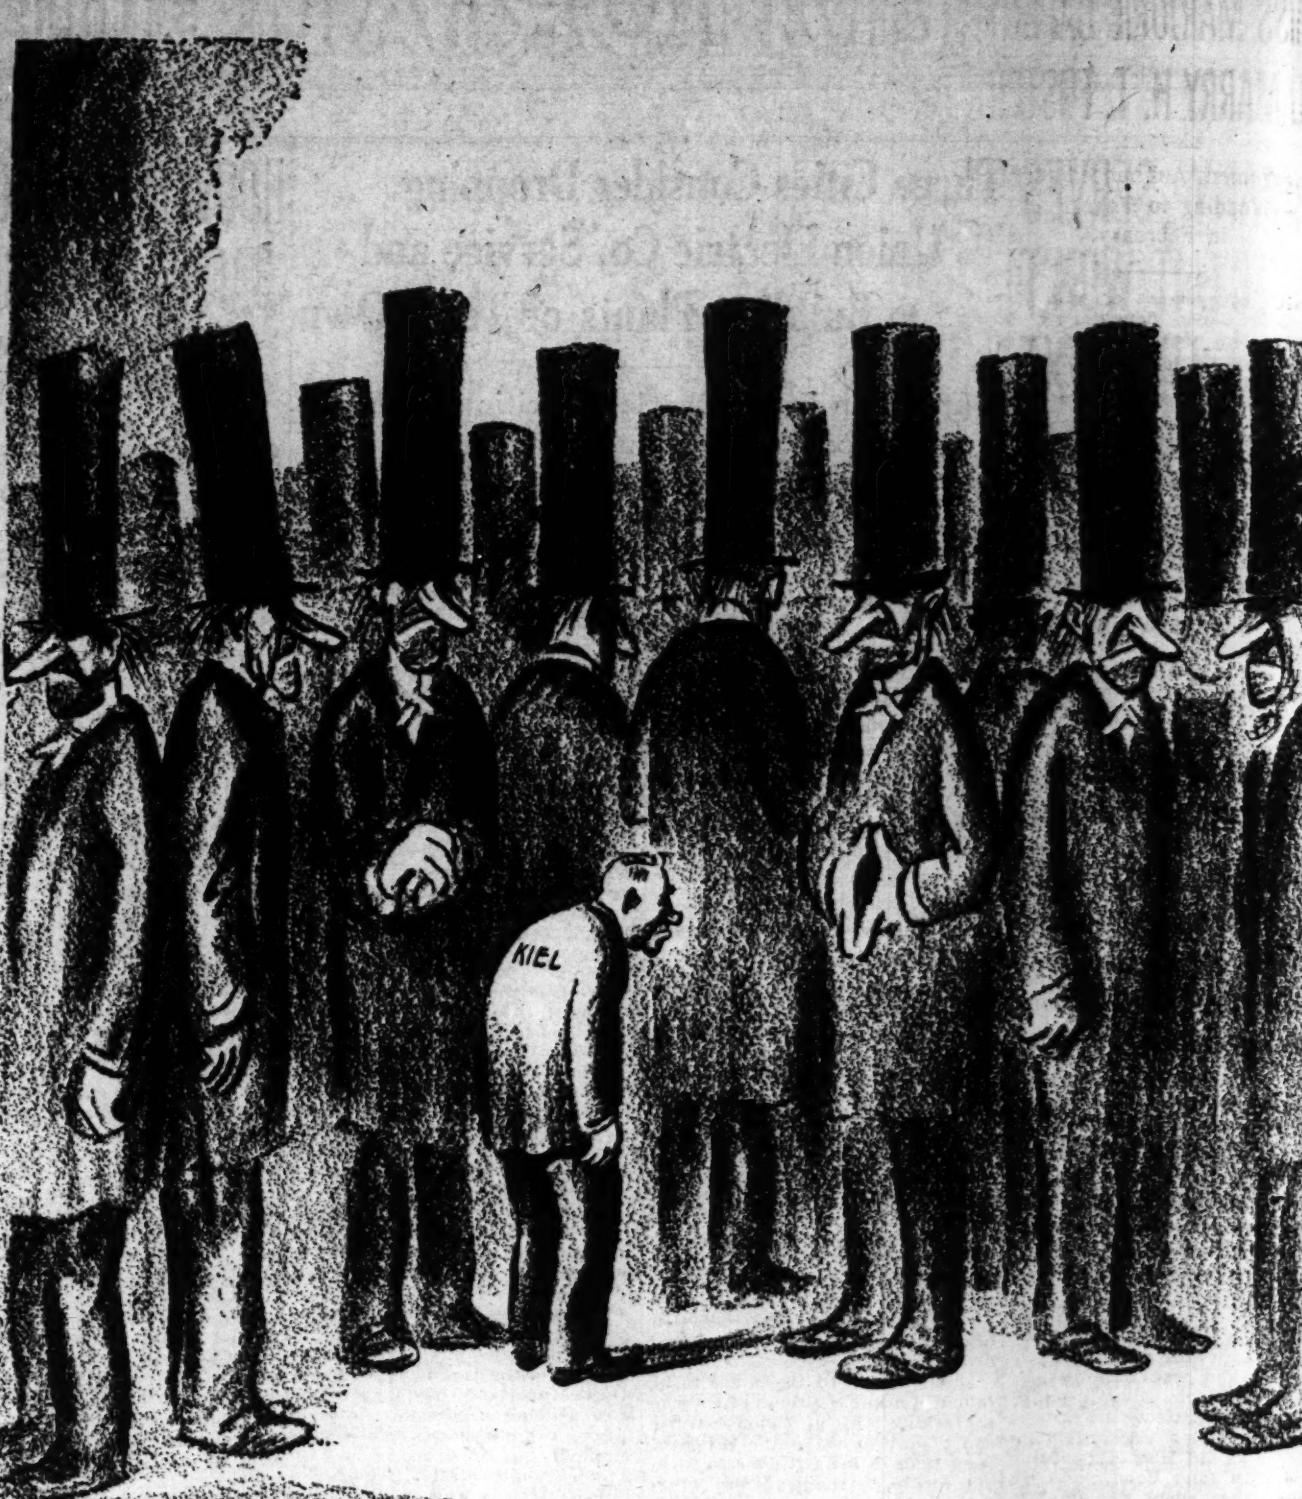

Mr. Thomas thinks the old parties promise the country nothing, but we are not so sure of that. The old parties are somewhat out of hand, but by the time we get done with them they will be more respectable than they are.

It is quite natural that Mr. Thomas should speak up confidently for a new political system at a time when we are in the doldrums. He would not be a good politician if he did not do so; but if he will look over this mundane sphere and count the existent democracies as opposed to every other form of government, whether Fascist or Communist, monarchical or Socialist, he will understand our abiding faith.

they are dry. Yet at Jefferson City, his party, dominated by rural members, specifically pledged Mr. Kiel to stand four-square on the party platform, which would continue Federal control of the liquor traffic, and which does not provide for immediate modification to permit the manufacture and sale of beer.

Short of committing an act of party disloyalty, Mr. Kiel cannot wriggle out of this distasteful position. He wants beer. He wants repeal of the State bone-dry law. But his party will not let him say so. Even if he does count the world well lost for his convictions, how can he persuade the South Side voters that his election as a Republican will solve the prohibition question as they desire it solved?

Contemplating our ex-Mayor's plight, we can only shed a quiet tear.

HENRY AT THE PARTY.

Political Stockyards Report

Two cellophane-wrapped presidential candidates emerge from the conventions, forming poor bill of fare in present crisis; Republican platform dreams of automatic prosperity; Democratic embraces John Stuart Mill and Jefferson; Chicago output savors of embalmed beef, when nation needs leaders of courage and action.

Jay Franklin in Vanity Fair; (Reprinted by Permission).

LAST June in Chicago, two great doves of snoring, bellowing, bleating, squealing politicians, wild-eyed and odorous, were sent down the runway in the Coliseum and amid the whirling of well-oiled machine politics operated by remote control, were converted into so many packages of bologna and sides of beef. The Republican and Democratic national conventions came, saw and were conquered by Messrs. Hoover and Roosevelt, the Swift and Cudahy of the political packers.

It was a smooth performance, and despite the anguished antics of the inmates of the partisan abattoirs, the result was what all disinterested observers had predicted in advance: the marketing of two candidates wrapped in cellophane, untouched by human hands, frozen into packages of potential votes to be consumed next November. Two foregone conclusions collided with two forlorn hopes, and the result is the least attractive bill of fare which has ever been offered to a distracted nation in the throes of a great crisis.

Hoover is all right. He means well and tries hard. The fact that he is stubborn, thin-skinned and a poor politician should not blind Americans to his extremely solid qualities as an organizer and an economic statesman. The country doesn't happen to like the qualities which he represents, but that is no more Hoover's fault than it is the world depression.

Roosevelt is all right. He is quick-witted and a gentleman. The fact that he is an opportunist and a political trickster should not blind us to the fact that he has deliberately identified himself with progressive policies and liberal principles and that we may need a shifty broken-field runner rather than an elephantine line-plunger if we are going to make first down in the next four years.

Charlie Curtis is all right. It is true that he is old as the hills, the brother of Dolly Gann and an expert on horse racing rather than taxation, but what of it? We shall simply have to pray ardently that President Hoover keeps his health until March 4 if not later. It is true that Jack Garner is a turtle-necked horned toad of a Texas politician, but what does it matter? At worst, he would be better than Curtis. We have the best possible assurance against assassination in the persons of our vice-presidential candidates. Not even a madman would wish either to step into the presidency.

Of the two platforms, the Democratic is the better, principally because it is the shorter. On the other hand, the Democratic party is so uncertain, divided and heterogeneous that it stands little chance of putting through even the Ten Commandments. The Democratic plank on liquor is dripping, wringing wet, whereas the Republican plank is such an ingenious straddle that the Bonapartes claim it is wet, while the Butters claim it is dry. Instead of pleasing both sides, it pleases neither. On other counts, there is little to choose between the two sides.

The Republicans are still dreaming of automatic prosperity. The Democrats have rushed back to John Stuart Mill and the mid-Victorian era for their economic principles, and back to Thomas Jefferson—God bless him!—for their political ideas. The Democrats vigorously oppose remission of the war debts, knowing all the time the debts will be settled by the economic rather than the political necessities of the time. The Republicans have a lot of kind things to say about the tariff, and are giving vent to a lot of vague propaganda that Herbert Hoover is a miraculous blend, aged in the wood of the best features of Abraham Lincoln, George Washington and Buddha. The Democrats, after spending several months in proving that Franklin Roosevelt combined the least desirable qualities of Benedict Arnold, William Jennings Bryan and Mahatma Gandhi, suddenly decided that he's not so bad after all, that he is in fact a darn good candidate, nay, the greatest man ever nominated by the Democratic party in all its history.

MR. WINTER'S STAND.

From the Kansas City Star.
 H. WINTER, Republican candidate for Governor of Missouri, in a speech in Kansas City said if he were elected he would see that Kansas City had clean elections, even if he had to call out the state militia to care for the police on election day. Right along this line, we were told, was Mr. Winter has said nothing about the St. Louis machine.

Control of Holding Firms

From the Business Week.

HOLDING companies escape state utility commission control; they are not operators. They defy Federal control; they are not engaged in interstate commerce. The dilemma annoys both sets of regulatory bodies. In the railroad field, the I. C. C. has been particularly outspoken in criticism and in demands for fuller authority. The Federal Power Commission goes a step farther; it has asserted its jurisdiction. Clarion River Power Co. is a licensee of the Federal authority. It sold out to the Pennsylvania Electric Co., which is not a licensee. The Federal Commission doubts the sale was above board, asks whether the deal was not framed for the principal purpose of impairing or destroying the value of $4,453,000 Clarion River preferred. Declaring its function includes doing "everything within its power to protect the financial health" of its licensees, the commission demands a full report and orders the two companies to issue no further securities without its approval.

Pennsylvania Electric is one of the Associated Gas & Electric group. The holding company is expected to resist Federal orders and seek early court decision on a point of utmost importance to the utilities. "This situation serves to indicate the satisfactory status of our system of utility regulation," says Electrical World. "Heretofore Federal jurisdiction has been assumed to extend only to hydro-electric companies operating under license from the Federal Power Commission, which represent a small part of the country's total installed power capacity; but if one such plant in a large system subjects the whole system to partial or complete Federal control, the fact should be established quickly. The Federal Power Commission's assumption of such authority therefore is highly desirable. With that point cleared up, the country can proceed toward a proper integration of state and Federal control, which will fill in the gaps in our present haphazard system."

BENNETT CLARK, BIOGRAPHER.

From the Kansas City Star.
 IN writing the biography of John Quincy Adams, Col. Bennett C. Clark has done something in accordance with the British tradition of public men than the American—for Col. Clark, as Democratic senatorial nominee, must now be considered as entering a public career. Yet obviously, the man with political experience has a far better equipment for the study of the lives of public men than the writer without such experience. Thus, Beveridge's lives of Madison and Lincoln owe much to the author's service in the United States Senate.

Col. Clark has produced a real biography. His long training in a political family at Washington gave him a background of an understanding of politics and the motives that move politicians that has proved invaluable in his study of the great New Englander. In his references to Henry Clay, for instance, he can speak with the authority of the House parliamentarian when he says that Clay's rulings as Speaker are still repeated as authoritative.

MISS MARJORIE CAPEN TO MARRY H. T. FOSTER

Engagement Announced at Tea—Wedding to Take Place in February.

THE engagement of Miss Marjorie Capen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pond Capen, 4750 Westminister place, and Hodgen Torrey Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Oron Foster of Ulica, N. Y., was announced late this afternoon at an informal tea given by Mrs. Capen for a few of her daughter's close friends.

The Capen family has long been prominently identified with the social life in St. Louis, and actively interested in the Velled Prophet Association. Miss Capen is a niece of George H. Samuel D. and Wallace C. Capen, and, on her mother's side of the family, of Mrs. Alanson C. Brown and Harry W. Stegall.

The prospective bride is a graduate of the John Burroughs School and Mrs. Deletang's School in Tours, France. Later she took special courses in the University of Paris, in Tours. She was formerly presented to society last season, and served as a special grand marshal of honor at the Velled Prophet's ball last October.

Mr. Foster came to St. Louis to live about two years ago, and is at present with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Foster, 418 Hanley road, who recently moved here from Detroit. Mr. Foster is a graduate of Cornell University, where he became a member of Phi Delta Theta, social fraternity, and Tau Beta Phi, honorary society for engineers.

Miss Capen recently visited her fiancé's family at their home on the Thousand Islands following a summer's stay in Hyannisport, Mass., and Mrs. Capen was their guest last week in Ulica en route home after a summer abroad.

The wedding will take place in February, and Mr. Foster and his bride will live in St. Louis.

The tea table this afternoon was decorated with pink roses and steevia, and was illuminated by pink candles in silver candelabra. Miss Ann Chittenden Ferriss, reigning Velled Prophet Queen, served, as did Miss Mary Colt Day and Miss Jane Bond, with whom Miss Capen spent the summer at Hyannisport, and Miss Helen Brown, her cousin.

The biographer's intense nationalistic feeling gives him an instinctive sympathy with the fierce Americanism of Adams, and a disapproval of the man often was personally. With his keen interest in the problems with which Adams dealt, Clark writes with an infectious enthusiasm.

Misourians may well take pride in this first literary work of the son of Champ Clark. It may be hoped that politics will not engross him so much as to stop his researches in American biography.

Rubber Magnate's Son and Bride

MR. AND MRS. LEONARD FIRESTONE

ABOARD the Ile de France as they sailed for a European honeymoon a few hours after their marriage in the Church of the Assumption, New York, Wednesday. He is the son of Harvey Firestone, rubber millionaire. The bride was Miss Polly Curtis.

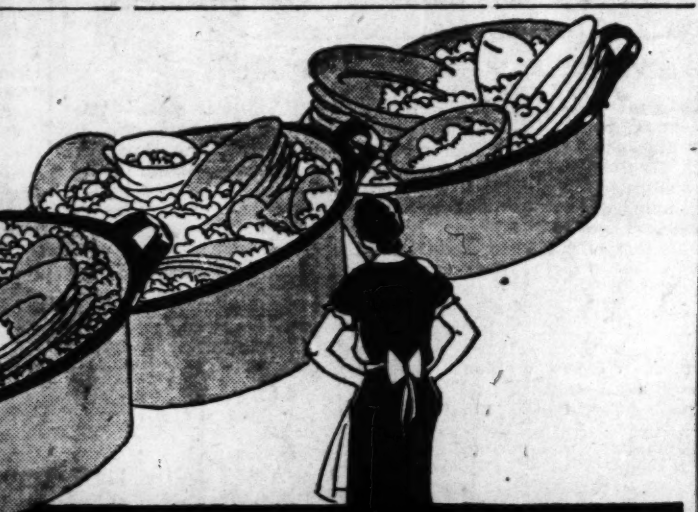

Informal reception at the German House, 2345 Lafayette avenue. His schedule today included a brief visit at Eden Seminary and a visit to Mrs. Ida Pauley, 7333 Maryland avenue. University City, an elderly member of the German Lutheran Church. The Prince, who arrived in St. Louis Wednesday night, is accompanied by a family friend, the Rev. Jacob Pistor, pastor of St. Paul's German Lutheran Church in Chicago. They called yesterday at Eden Publishing Co. to see Dr. C. W. Locher, president of the Evangelical Synod of North America.

The Prince, who is an enthusiastic horseman, will participate in the first fox hunt of the season of the Bridlepath Hunt Club tomorrow afternoon. He will take a horse over the jumps this afternoon, practicing for the event.

"I haven't been on a horse for six months," he confided, "and so I'm a little out of practice. I thought it would be well for me to ride over the course first, well in advance of the hunt. I wish my brother, Louis Ferdinand, could hunt with us, but that is impossible. He is in Mr. Ford's factory in Detroit and has his work to do."

His social engagements include a dinner tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hager, in Hunteleigh Village. He was the dinner guest last night of Mr. and Mrs. Max L. Telch at Hotel Jefferson. He is the guest of Telch, who is chairman of the board of the hotel.

We know, Madam.
Washing dishes 3 times a day
is dull work

BUT see if the New Oxydol doesn't make it easier

Nothing could make jumping up after every meal to do the dishes a pleasure—but why not make it as easy as you can? Sprinkle the New Oxydol in your dishpan—and see how dishwashing flies. You've never had such thick, lasting suds—50% more suds to work for you—rich, clean-smelling suds that cut grease like a flash—and rinse away so dishes are sparkling clean. Oxydol softens water too—and all water turns hard when you add dirty dishes or clothes. Try the New Oxydol. See how much it lightens all your housework—how snowy white it soaks clothes—and how easy it is on hands. Procter & Gamble

NEW OXYDOL
THE COMPLETE HOUSEHOLD SOAP

62 ST. LOUISANS ADDED TO LIST IN 'WHO'S WHO'

Maj. James H. Doolittle and Tom K. Smith Among Those Appearing First Time.

Sixty-two St. Louisans will find their names, for the first time, in the new 1932-33 issue of "Who's Who in America," which came out today. The volume, the seventeenth biennial issue, lists 445 St. Louis men and women as compared with 348 in the 1930-31 issue. The 62 new names are three less than the number of those dropped for death, removal or other causes.

Maj. James H. Doolittle, aviator, is one of the new arrivals in the volume of professional and civic recognition. His 15-line paragraph tells of his graduation from the University of California in 1917, and of his flying achievements to and including the coast-to-coast record of 11 hours and 11 minutes, established in 1931. Too late for inclusion in this issue, in fact within the past month, he made a new speed record for land planes, 236 miles an hour, in the air races at Cleveland.

Another new addition to the list is Tom K. Smith, banker, who recently received the $1000 St. Louis award for his service as chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment. The committee connection, but not the award, is recorded. Smith has the distinction of being the only Tom Smith in the book, though several Thomases in the Smith family are cited.

The other new St. Louis names in the 1932-33 volume, including as will be seen, a few who have died or left the city since the compilation was made, are:

Aikin, Thomas R., steel manufacturer.
Alexander, John L., religious educator.
Bass, George A., brick manufacturer.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

THE cottage colony of St. Louisans at Wequetonsing, Mich., has been considerably depleted within the last few days with the return of several families. Mr. and Mrs. Perry O. Elsbeis, 660 West Polo drive, with their three young sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe H. Rodemeyer, 40 Washington terrace, and their three daughters, whose summer homes at Wequetonsing adjoint, returned Saturday. Mrs. H. H. Culver, mother of Mrs. Elsbeis, and Mrs. Rodemeyer, who has been with Mrs. Rodemeyer, will arrive Monday. She is motoring to St. Louis and stopped in Chicago and Evanston, Ill., for a visit with friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Mudd, 47 Vandeventer place, who occupied the summer home of the Misses Clara and Louisa Leete, have returned to their home. Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Mudd spent the summer in Europe, and Dr. Mudd attended a conference of an international association of doctors in Rome, at which he read a paper. They were entertained by the Governor of Rome and other dignitaries.

Mrs. M. Ames Cushman, who was with Miss Mary Semple Scott in her cottage, has gone to Buffalo, N. Y., to visit Mrs. Archibald Hazard, who was Miss Mary Alice McLaren of St. Louis. Miss Scott has returned to St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Garrison, 10 Portland place, who leased their cottage at Wequetonsing to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Gaylord of the Hanley road, and their family, will remain after the departure of the Gaylards today, to close the house for the winter. Soon after their return to St. Louis Mr. and Mrs. Garrison will go to New York to be with their grandchild while their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Davis, are in Europe. They will remain in the East until after Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vernon Mastin, 5137 Westminister place, have returned from Marion, Mass., where they visited Mrs. Mastin's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lionberger, at their summer home. Mr. and Mrs. Lionberger will be home early next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Lawlin of Hampton Park have returned home after a summer's visit in Michigan. They toured by motor and visited several of the resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brodhead, 5273 Westminister place, will have as their guest next month, Mrs. John Langhorne of Springfield, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Brodhead were in Pointe-Aux-Barques for part of the summer as the guest of Mr. Robert Whitmore Knapp. Mrs. Knapp and Mrs. Brodhead are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sherman Medart, 41 Ridgemoor, and their two young sons have returned from New York where they were guests at the Waldorf Astoria. Before going to New York they visited Newport News and Old Point Comfort.

With the close of the summer season at Pointe-Aux-Barques, Mich., the St. Louis cottage colony there is returning. Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton Farish, 5221 Westminister place, spent part of the early season with their daughter, Mrs. Robert Whitmore Knapp, 4600 McPherson avenue, at her cottage, and later went to Atlantic City. They arrived here several days ago. Mr. Knapp has gone North to join his family, and will bring them home about Sept. 27, 19, and for the night courses in the school of commerce and finance from Sept. 28 to Sept. 30.

EARL OF CRAVEN, FIGURE IN CATHCART CASE, DIES

Countess' Companion in Elopement to U. S. Succumbs at 35 in France.

PAU, France, Sept. 16.—William George Bradley Craven, fifth Earl of Craven, who hurriedly left the United States in 1926, when immigration agents sought to question him concerning an affair with the Countess of Cathcart, who was in process of being barred from the United States for "moral turpitude," died here yesterday. He was 35 years old.

He succeeded to his title in 1921. He was educated at Eton and was married in October, 1918, to Mary Williamina George of Inver Gordon. He served with a Hampshire regiment for four years during the World War and was voted war honors by the Government in 1926. The Earl's wife sued him for divorce following his elopement to the United States with Vera, Countess of Cathcart. The Countess was refused entrance to the United States on the ground of moral turpitude. She demanded, through her counsel, that the Earl be deported also. The next day a writ was procured for his arrest, but he fled to Canada before it could be served.

CITY DEMOCRATS SEEK REPAYMENT OF $5600

But Committee Defers Action by Referring Matter to Executive Group.

Several members of the Democratic City Committee, at a meeting of the committee yesterday, indignantly demanded the immediate refund of $5600 checked out of the committee treasury in a mysterious transaction that all but depleted the committee's funds.

The money, as previously disclosed by the Post-Dispatch, was paid into the treasury as filing fees for committee members on the Wilson-for-Governor slate, and was refunded after the primary. No refund was made to Democratic committee members who paid filing fees amounting to $3200.

At last week's meeting of the committee, Dewey S. Godfrey, chairman, and Harry J. Cantwell, treasurer, announced they would refund the money would be repaid, but yesterday they said the whole matter had been referred to the executive committee for investigation.

When the subject came up yesterday for consideration, Mrs. P. H. Hogan, committeewoman of the Fifteenth Ward, led a group that demanded the immediate refund of the money. Debate was cut off after several had joined Mrs. Hogan in the demand, by referring the matter to the Executive Committee, which Chairman Godfrey said would investigate and report to the next meeting, a date for which has not been set.

After the meeting Mrs. Hogan said she was supported in her demand by many members of the committee, but could speak only for herself.

"It is an outrage to think that a certain group in control of the committee would use the committee's funds for their own interests as against the interests of the committee as a whole," she said, "and I'm going to make the point of it at every meeting until the money has been repaid."

"Referring this matter to the Executive Committee will do no good, for the committee there will be full publicity of all the facts unless that money is repaid," James Miller, Fourth Ward Committeeman and Justice of the Peace at 1440 Cass avenue, is chairman of the Executive Committee. He is a Wilson supporter. Mrs. Hogan and the committeewoman from her ward, George Murphy, who joined her in a demand for replacement of the money, supported Russell L. Dearmont, defeated Democratic candidate for Governor in the primary.

Other members of the Executive Committee are: Cantwell, John A. Genteman, James J. Gallagher, State Senator Joseph H. Brogan, Constable John F. Byrne, Mrs. J. Edward Bates, Mrs. Maude Kesterman, Miss Addie O'Connell, Mrs. Charles M. Hahn, Mrs. Charles Cornell and Mrs. Ann Donegan.

The $5600 was borrowed from the State Bank & Trust Co. of Wellington on a note and the money paid into the committee, as provided by law, for filing fees. After the primary the note was taken up with a check from the committee when James J. Fitzsimmons was treasurer. Fitzsimmons has been succeeded by Cantwell and in his report to Cantwell disclosed that $5673 missing from the committee's bank account was paid to take up the note in the Wellington bank.

His report does not disclose who signed the note upon which the money was borrowed. The payment of this note left the committee with only $2000 on hand for expenditure in the general election.

The committee yesterday nominated candidates for the Board of Aldermen in the Tenth and Twenty-fourth wards. Paul J. Henrich, 3308 Salena street, was chosen for the Tenth Ward, and Arthur Fahl, 1438 Tamm avenue, for the Twenty-fourth Ward.

ARMS PARLEY HEAD SUPPORTS GERMAN CLAIM

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—British official quarters remained reticent today regarding Germany's claim to equality in armaments with the other nations of Europe. The German Embassy has been in close touch with the British Foreign Office, but the nature of the conversations has not been announced.

The Government made it clear today that the views expressed yesterday by Arthur Henderson, former Foreign Secretary in the British Labor Cabinet and now chairman of the disarmament conference, were not necessarily the views of the British Government.

Henderson, in an address before the National Peace Council, called upon the World War allies to carry out the disarmament provisions of the Treaty of Versailles and asserted that the volume of opinion among delegates to the disarmament conference was so strongly in favor of immediate steps to meet Germany's claims that the issue could be settled to the advantage of the whole world.

Sir John Simon, the Foreign Minister, will go to Geneva on Tuesday for the resumption of the disarmament deliberations. Henderson will depart for the conference Saturday.

Disatisfied With Results.

"Why shouldn't the World War allies get together and recognize that what was said in their names in 1919 must bind them?" Henderson demanded. "Why should they not publicly declare their intention to remove Germany's position of inferiority with all possible haste and to restore Germany's equality in military status?"

Admitting that he was disatisfied with the results of the conference thus far, Henderson asserted it would be an "intolerable jest" if it failed. There is such a volume of opinion among delegates in favor of immediate steps to meet Germany's claims to equality, he continued, that the issue can be settled "not only to the advantage of Germany but to the advantage of Europe and the whole world."

What World Opinion Demands.

The great mass of British opinion would rejoice in disarmament, Henderson said. "We should greet with enthusiasm the abolition of monster battleships, submarines, tanks, huge land guns and, more than anything, that devilish form of warfare, air bombing."

"At last we are tired of the tyranny of the armament mongers and are ready for any measure that will put an end to it."

"The claim of Germany to rearm will present the conference with a most crucial option. If Germany withdrew from the conference she might estrange opinion in Europe. Surely there is a better way and I hope the better way will be taken."

Behind the Screens

Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 15. — It is roses, and real roses, in the life of burly Victor McLaglen, who stands that high and broad in real and reel life, and is tougher than the toughest mug the studio could find for the football burlesque, "Rackety-Rax."

McLaglen left Fox not long ago, went on a vaudeville tour, and came back to films as a freelance actor. He is back at Fox now, made "Gully" with Edmond Lowe, his old "fess" friend, and the picture made producers realize suddenly that McLaglen still has a wallop at the box office. He is back at Fox now, made "Rackety-Rax," and is to make another film for the old home lot.

THE real roses in the McLaglen career are in his six-acre garden, laid out by himself and completed at a cost of nearly $30,000. Maintaining a swimming pool, an item to cause financially worried stars a lot of pondering before filling it with costly water, but Victor holds his pool bothers him not a bit when it's compared to the cost of the semi-formal expense of flowers and shrubbery.

Besides boxing, swimming and other athletic pastimes, the star indulges on the side his fondness for raising pigeons and flowers. Even in these times he considers his palatial home a good investment.

"If I ever need the money," he says, "I'll sell it."

PICTURES may break the hearts and souls of those who work in them, or simply bore them to tears, but there's something that keeps the actors on those sets—something even besides money.

Neil Hamilton I caught in rather a sour mood on a sound stage the other day, bemoaning the uneventfulness of the movie life.

"Nothing ever happens," he sighed. "You just go to the set each morning early, make up, sit around for hours, finally start rears and either you don't know your lines or someone else doesn't."

"About lunch time you get the shot taken—then there's a lunch, and back to the studio. More rehearsals, more hold-ups, more delays—and then the director asks you to be a good fellow and work late. 'Oh, well,' you say, and hours later you drag home to bed, and the next day it's the same thing again."

"And what would you do if you had a million dollars and didn't need to work any more?" I asked.

"Stay right in pictures as long as I could," grinned Neil. "It's the finest work in the world!"

Belts Used More

Costs generally wrap well about the figure, buttoning on the left side. Belts are more often used than last year, and waistlines are generally semi-fitted, although straight models also are seen.

If you ask My Opinion

Martha Carr

Dear Mrs. Carr: I AM a boy 16 years old. I have a father and my mother, little brother and sister and larger brother (who is out of work) in St. Louis. I am up here with a friend of my mother's. I have only met one or two boys. This friend wants me to stay this winter on her farm without pay but they have been buying some clothes for me. They want me to go to high school here and I have to walk a mile and a half. I would get a good dinner here where I wouldn't have to walk a block or two to school at home. I wouldn't have to go to school at home.

It is so lonesome up here, and you don't get to go with the boys as you know, you have so much to do. I hope you will give me your answer in Monday's paper.

JOHN G.

When so many boys are asking me for places on a farm, it seems to me that you are a very lucky fellow. And though it may be a little different from strolling a block and a half, meeting your pals at the corner drug store, with nothing but talk about how much you would like to go to shows only you haven't any money, and going home and finding everybody blue because there is not enough to go around and no work in sight—well, seems to me a peach of a job you've got. There is a future in it. That mile and a half walk in the fine country air will strengthen your legs and biceps and a good meal at the end will, probably, altogether make you the build of an athlete.

Hold your chest up and youraphragm in and breathe down to your toes (this is the posture you learn in the army). Your head must be held up and back (most young boys look at the ground so much when they walk).

Stand hard, and read the good things in the newspapers and if there isn't a good library there, write to the State Librarian, Jefferson City, Mo., and ask if they can lend you a few books. I guarantee that you may happen to want.

The other boys have as much work as you, probably, but you would like to take a baseball bat, a bat, a club, a club to learn to play, or a quartette to sing. Better, much, to be with boys who are busy than town loafers. At this winter and you'll have something to bring back with you, when, if you learn, intelligently, about the country and running farm.

Dear Mrs. Carr: I LEASE tell me whether the serial "Masquerade" that was published in book form, or if I can get the back copy of the paper. A SUBSCRIBER.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest, but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

Dear Martha Carr: I AM 31 years old, pretty and well-liked. I have been going with a boy for about nine months. I love him dearly and he tells me he loves me too. I have been wearing his fraternity pin. I stopped going with others because I didn't think it was the right thing to do.

Lately he has been very negligent. Do you think he has tired? Do you think I should send him his pins? He calls me only about once a week. I can't stand many more days of the anguish he is causing me. BEWILDERED.

How many more times do you girls want me to tell you not to let a boy have every day he asks for, and not to stop going out with other young boys? Friends! Like a hundred others, he probably found that there was not much more to strive for, so has given up the game. Only once a week!

That is pretty nearly often enough—the constant, taken-for-granted thing falls on men. Next time he calls, tell him you have a date.

Dear Mrs. Carr: WE are two girls who gave a party and had a great success. Would it be all right for us to give another party at Christmas and invite the same boys without their reciprocating. ANXIOUS.

You are anticipating a little, aren't you? By that time you may have met a lot of other boys who would prefer to invite. And, anyhow, I do not see how you could feel any more in their hands, who were so unappreciative and discourteous, to have a special invitation at that time. Better not ask them now for the Christmas party; lots of things may happen. Give yourself a chance to change your mind; it's safer.

Dear Mrs. Carr: I LEASE tell me whether the serial "Masquerade" that was published in book form, or if I can get the back copy of the paper. A SUBSCRIBER.

If you mean "the Masquerade," I have it. I can get it for you. I will send it to you by Thurston, you can get it in book form. Possibly you can find a book number of the paper. I can buy them if there are still any on hand. Ask me at the counter on the first floor, Post-Dispatch office, 15th and Olive street.

Dear Mrs. Carr: I HAVE written you, bewailing the fact that she was tall and couldn't get any beauty. Well, I am 5 ft. 10 inches, and I'll say, for her encouragement, that this doesn't make the least difference. I have married and gone with many men taller than I and they seemed to like it—and she, ah! I am 37 now and still feel like a girl. My husband is proud of it. Tell her to forget this. Confidence begets confidence. She will find many admirers. I am just my height. Tell her just to give them a chance.

My Dear Mrs. Carr: I COULD tell me when the last city directory was published and how often they put out a new one? Does it make a difference on your skin? My friend is a doctor. Would you please tell me the proper way to introduce a lady friend to a man?

A DAILY READER.

Call the City Directory offices, or the Public Library, listed in the telephone book, and you will get the information you want.

Still Finding Toadies.

MOTHER TOAD hopped up on Willy Nilly's shoulder. "Toadies may have gone to the right," she said. "They started off in that direction."

"I don't know," said Mother Toad. "He may have gone to the left. There's a brook in that direction."

They turned now to the left. In another moment Mother Toad said: "He may have gone straight ahead. There is a patch of woods there that Toadies like." They turned and went straight ahead.

"I don't know," she continued. "I think we'd better go back and take that path to the right."

"Now, Mother Toad," said Willy Nilly, "we'll be going around in circles if we don't stick to one road at a time. We'll take the right one first."

Mother Toad hung on to Willy Nilly's right ear, and he felt he couldn't ask her not to when she was feeling so sad and weak.

"She might fall off," Willy Nilly said to himself. "If she didn't hold on to something."

All of a sudden Mother Toad hopped off his shoulder.

"I see him! I see my Toodies," she cried. "Didn't I say he was bright?"

Toadies was in the midst of a group of Toads showing them how to play Leap Toad.

"Mother," he called out, "these Toads didn't think we could play Leap Toad because we were Toads and they said the game was Leap Frog. But I named it Leap Toad and so we're jumping over each other's back and now they urged Willy Nilly to join them, but they used his back as a slide until he was quite dizzy."

Fluffy fur, banished for the last two years, are back in vogue, and many winter coats are designed with capes or collars banded with fox tails.

End Summer's Telltale Damage—Have Smooth, White, Lovely Skin

MAN SEIZED, TORTURED FOR HOUR; SAVED BY POLICE

Joseph Altman Beaten and Threatened by Four Abductors Who Drag Him From His Home Into Yellow Sedan.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL CUT AND BRUISED

Assaults Sought Whereabouts of Brother-in-law Who Jumped $2500 Bond on Incendiary Charge.

Dragged from the front door of his home at 4 o'clock this morning and taken for a chilling automobile ride by four men who beat and tortured him, Joseph Altman, 49 years old, 5864 Cote Brillante avenue, was rescued by policemen an hour later following a general radio alarm.

Altman's four abductors were arrested by policemen who discovered them at 8100 Delmar boulevard, a lonely spot near the western end of the street in University City. They were lodged in the Page Boulevard Station, while their shivering victim, clad only in his pajamas, was sent to City hospital for treatment for shock, bruises and cuts on the head. He had been punched repeatedly and struck with a revolver.

Altman was abducted and tortured, he told a Post-Dispatch reporter, in an effort to learn from him the whereabouts of his brother-in-law, David Boltzman, who was known as George T. Hilton. He had jumped a $2500 criminal bond given on Aug. 14 when he was arrested for questioning about an incendiary fire in West Frankfort, Ill.

Boltzman's bondsman, identified by Altman as the leader in the kidnapping and the continued attack on him during the ride, was among the four men captured by the police. He is Edward McGarry, the professional bondsman arrested on Aug. 27 after police had recovered $7500 in stolen jewelry which had passed through his hands.

McGarry, who gave his address as 4068 Washington boulevard and age as 41, was accompanied by three men who identified themselves as: Harry Blawie, 29, 1614 third avenue; Alfred Goldfin, 28, same address; and Roy Cramer, 46, of the Washington boulevard address. McGarry previously had given his address as 1510 Angel-street.

MAYOR M'KEE CHASE UP ON 1800 CITY

Cars Not Needed Much Says, in Interest Economy.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Joseph V. McKee, who announced a rigid economy decided to find out today of the 1800 automobiles in city departments are practical. Those that are not.

"Every pleasure car was out of service and only left for required inspection," he declared. Yesterday he ordered Terminal Market closed after Jan. 1, with the saving $144,328 a year in operating cost. The market during Mayor John F. Administration and it was as a central storage and distribution point for foodstuffs in the city. In the hope it would save $100,000 annually to meet the annual revenue $24,771.

The new Mayor received from Fire Department, deducting his salaries. McKee said he was informed Citizens' Budget Committee would save $1 million in salaries if all city took a proportionate cut.
